PRICE FIVE CENTS

BUSINESS GROWTH SHOWN BY FIGURES OF CANADA'S BANKS

Both Individual Accounts and Month of Clearings During May Increased

There Was Healthy Expansion in Addition to the Seasonal Movement

Ottawa, June 26 (Canadian Press)—Figures of the bank debits or amounts charged to individual accounts in the clearing house centres of Canada and at the branches of the Weyburn Security Bank in May as reported to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show the satisfactory gain of about 13.2 per cent. over the previous month. The greater part of the increase was seasonal in character, but when adjustment is made to eliminate the seasonal tendency a substantial advance is still apparent. The aggregate for May was $2,250,000,000, as against $2,023,000 in the preceding month.

The bank clearings during May, amounting to $1,422,000,000, also exceeded the record of the previous month by about thirteen per cent. The normal seasonal increase measured by a computation basis on the records of the corresponding month of previous years was nearly eleven per cent; the increase aside from the seasonal tendency being about two per cent.

FIVE-MONTH INCREASE
While the bank clearings in May last were about five per cent. less than for the corresponding month of 1923, given as $1,514,000,000, the cumulative total for the first five months of the present year was 2.1 per cent. more than the total for the corresponding period of 1923. The aggregate for the first five months of 1924 was $8,533,000,000, as against $8,389,000,000 for the corresponding period of the preceding year.

EXPECT TO OPEN MARINE BUILDING IN TWO WEEKS

First of New Coastwise
Boats to be Delivered in December

Electrification of Section
Through Mountains Under Consideration

The public portion of the Canadian Pacific Railway building for the headquarters offices of the B.C. Coast service will be opened between July 10 and 12. D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, stated to The Times to-day.

In making this announcement Mr. Coleman indicated that it had been expected to open by July 1, but through conditions of the weather and the fact that the building was not ready for delivery in December, as originally promised by the contractors.

The reports received by Captain Troup, manager of the B.C. Coast Service, with regard to the two new steamers now building for the service on the Clyde, indicate that the progress on the vessels has been well up to expectations. Mr. Coleman said in answer to a question, and the first will be ready for delivery in December, as originally promised by the contractors.

AMUSEMENT CENTRE
The vice-president was able to report progress in connection with the Crystal Garden plans. Officers of the company, in conjunction with the architects, Messrs. Rattenbury and James, are working on the plans, and it is expected that these will be completed within a few weeks.

ELECTRIFICATION
Following the remarks of President E. W. Beatty when he was last on the coast, considerable attention has been given in financial, electrical, and railway circles to the future policy of the company with regard to the electrification of the system through the Rocky and Selkirk mountains. This is the chief solution offered alternative to the great expense of double tracking. Electrification of the coast grades are regarded as the solution for competition with the Canadian National system through the mountains.

Mr. Coleman, commenting on this situation, pointed out that the company has for some time been preparing studies and surveys in connection with the electrification of the railway line between Lake Louise and Revelstoke, about 146 miles. "A considerable force is now engaged," Mr. Coleman stated, "and it is hoped that definite plans and recommendations can be placed before the executive of the company within a few weeks. It is of course a project of great magnitude and will therefore in all probability require prolonged consideration."

APPEAL TO CITIZENS TO GIVE HEARTIEST WELCOME TO LIGHT CRUISERS HERE

Effort is Being Made to Have Ships Move From Esquimalt to Ogden Point; Alderman Harvey Points Out Continuous Programme Ready

An opportunity unique in Canada is afforded to visit the light cruiser squadron now in Esquimalt harbor, for no other port in the Dominion will have the opportunity to see this section of the British Special Service Squadron, owing to its plans to leave shortly for the south.

Recognizing that if two of the ships were berthed alongside at Ogden Point hundreds would visit the cruisers as compared with the limited number who will go to Esquimalt, an effort was started yesterday to press to have this done. At present the Delhi and Dragon are alongside at Esquimalt, with the Dauntless at the coal wharf, and the Danae in the stream, and it is hoped to bring two of them round to the ocean docks. The suggestion has been received with enthusiasm everywhere.

CALGARY TROPHY FOR BATTLECRUISER

Mounted Bison's Head Presented to Hood, Now at Anchor at Vancouver

Vice-Admiral Field Addresses Canadian Club of the Terminal City

Vancouver, June 26.—At 10.30 o'clock this morning a delegation from the City of Calgary went aboard the battle-cruiser Hood and presented to the flagship of the British Special Service Squadron, anchored in the harbor here, a typical Canadian trophy, a magnificently mounted buffalo head. The presentation, made by Alderman T. H. Crawford, president of the Calgary City Council, was received by the captain and ship's company with much enthusiasm as a real souvenir of the visit to Western Canada.

SAMPLES OF MINERALS
Immediately following the presentation of the bison's head, Alderman Frank Woodside of Vancouver, representing the Vancouver Chamber of Mines, the lumber and shingle manufacturers and other commercial organizations, presented to Vice-Admiral Field for the squadron a casket of carved British Columbia fir containing thirty-two samples of British Columbia minerals, gold, silver, copper, iron, coal, asbestos and similar products. The illuminated address was lettered with hammered native copper, and on the casket were carved the British coat of arms, a typical Indian canoe and other symbols.

At noon to-day Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Field addressed a Canadian Club luncheon and this afternoon the officers of the squadron are holding an "At Home" aboard the Hood. This evening the admiral and officers of the squadron will be guests of the Navy Officers' Association of British Columbia at a dinner at Jericho Country Club.

FOOTBALL CONTEST
The football team of the Australian light cruiser Adelaide and a team representing army and navy units of South Vancouver will play a game this evening.

To-night the first of the mighty open-air street dances will be held at Courthouse Square for the benefit of the sailors. Smoking concerts are also on the entertainment programme.

ISLAND RAILWAYS TO BE CONTINUED SENATE DECIDES

Victoria and Vancouver Fight Hand in Hand For Further Development

Victoria and Vancouver have achieved through joint effort, satisfaction concerning the programme of railway construction on Vancouver Island, according to the latest advice from Ottawa, which states that the railway committee of the Senate has given its sanction to the continuation of building on C.N.R. lines here. This building will include a branch line to Cowichan Bay and the plan for the main track continuation as far as Cottonwood Creek, Cowichan Lake. It is said that this latter extension is somewhat shorter than was originally planned, but it is another step towards the ultimate goal of the railway company, and will tend to still further open up the mineral and other natural wealth of the island.

Stimulated by the visit of J. C. Pendray and George I. Warren, of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, and given a clear insight into the results of such further building operations on Vancouver Island, the Vancouver Board of Trade rallied to Victoria's aid.

HOW IT HAPPENED
We went before the council of the Vancouver Board of Trade last week, said George Warren of the Chamber of Commerce this morning, "and gave them the facts of the case. They followed the hearing with an investigation of their own and then proceeded to wire to Ottawa on our behalf, endorsing the Island branch and extension line, and entirely complying with our requests."

The telegram sent to Ottawa by the Vancouver authorities was as follows: "Whereas Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railway System, was appointed by the Federal Government to investigate the railway system of Vancouver Island, and whereas Sir Henry Thornton has recommended the construction of eight miles of new line from Deerholme on the already existing line, located at Mile 58, easterly to Cowichan Bay, and also the extension of approximately twenty-six miles of the already existing line, which proposed extension is already completely graded and largely trestled, both of which proposed lines are part of the National Railway System of Vancouver Island."

"Be it therefore resolved, that the Council of the Vancouver Board of Trade recommends the construction of the line from Deerholme to Cowichan Bay, and also the extension of approximately twenty-six miles of the already existing line, which proposed extension is already completely graded and largely trestled, both of which proposed lines are part of the National Railway System of Vancouver Island."

POLICE PROTECTING LETTER CARRIERS

Steps Taken Following Assaults by Strikers on Men in Montreal

Federal Government to Hear Deputation of Western Postal Workers

Montreal, June 26.—Extra police protection will be provided for Montreal letter carriers following assaults made on men on their rounds yesterday. Postmaster Gaudet appealed to Chief of Police Belandier and later announced that city police reserves and members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police would be employed on this duty.

Postmaster Gaudet said that 241 of the 568 men who went on strike had made personal appeals for reinstatement.

OFFER REJECTED
Toronto, June 26.—The striking postal employees here, meeting in the Labor Temple this afternoon, voted to reject the proposal by which a sub-committee of the Federal Cabinet would investigate their grievances. They claimed that only about fifty per cent. of their number would be able to return to their positions as the Government would not dismiss the substitutes employed within the past week.

The men made a board of arbitration. The men's vote this afternoon upset expectations of a settlement.

The Toronto Liberal Association, after numerous meetings for seven days with representatives of the postal strikers, sent a delegation to interview members of the Cabinet in Ottawa.

FAIR TREATMENT
"In view of the Government's offer to the men," said President Charles Collins, of the Toronto Liberal Association, "we will accept the offer."

CROW'S NEST RATE WOULD ADD TO PRESENT DISCRIMINATION AGAINST B.C. OLIVER WARNS

British Columbia's formal protest against the renewal of the Crow's Nest Pass rate agreement unless it applies to eastbound as well as westbound freight was telegraphed by Premier Oliver to Premier Mackenzie King to-day, while British Columbia manufacturers were bombarding the Federal Government with warnings that restoration of the Crow's Nest rates would ruin their business.

Mr. Oliver's lengthy telegram outlining British Columbia's demand for justice in connection with the Crow's Nest rates ran as follows:

"Yesterday I received a telegram from the clerk of the Privy Council advising me that the Privy Council would afford a hearing re Crow's Nest Pass Agreement transportation rates in the Council Chamber at Ottawa, on Friday the twenty-seventh instant at 10.30 a.m. and inviting this Government to be represented. It is impossible for a representative to leave here and reach Ottawa within the time stated."

The only alternative which is left to us is to make a presentation by telegram which I now propose to do. I am advised that in the interior of British Columbia over forty million dollars have been invested in lands and improvements for the purpose of producing fruit. This fruit production is entirely dependent upon obtaining water for irrigation purposes. The cost of obtaining irrigation water has been very expensive and involves large annual payments both on capital and maintenance accounts. During the last three years, low prices have prevailed, which, coupled with high transportation costs, has reduced the fruit grower to a condition approximating bankruptcy. The restoration of the Crow's Nest rates would place the B.C. fruit grower at a vastly greater disadvantage than is now prevailing unless concurrently with the establishment of Crow's Nest Pass rates, transportation rates eastward from B.C. are placed on an equality with the westward movement."

"At the present time the movement of fruit from British Columbia eastward carries in some instances double the rate for moving fruit in Ontario. The responsibility for the existing discriminations, as well as those which will be added, must lie with the Government and Parliament of Canada."

CITES DISCRIMINATION
"The following are a few examples which will illustrate what I mean. Apples carried lots from Vernon, B.C. to Winnipeg, 1,176 miles, rate 111. From Toronto to Winnipeg, 1,232 miles, present rate 85, proposed Crow's Nest rate 55. We are now suffering a 28 discrimination and it is proposed to make a 58 or 105 per cent. of a discrimination. On agricultural implements from Vancouver to Winnipeg, 1,465 miles, present rate is 155. From Montreal to Winnipeg, 1,416 miles, present rate 82 1/2. Crow's Nest rate 74, present discrimination 72 1/2, proposed discrimination 81 or 109 per cent. Building and roofing paper and felts, from Vancouver to Winnipeg, 1,416 miles, present rate 100, proposed rate 110, proposed discrimination 10 per cent."

325 JAPANESE AT HONOLULU ARE ADMITTED TO U.S.

Honolulu, June 26.—Over half of Japanese immigrants who arrived here Saturday on the steamship Tenyo Maru had been examined and admitted to the United States up to this morning. United States immigration officials announced this noon.

The liner brought in 511 Japanese, and the announcement said that 325 of them had been examined and passed. Examinations of the others now are under way.

The rush of Japanese immigrants to this port is due to the fact that the new United States immigration law barring from entrance aliens ineligible to citizenship, such as the Japanese, will become effective July 1.

CONTESTANT FOR U.S. NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENCY

GOVERNOR ALFRED SMITH of New York, Democrat

New York, June 26.—Governor Alfred Smith of New York was formally placed before the Democratic National Convention here to-day for nomination for the presidency of the United States.

In the course of the presentation of his name, Franklin D. Roosevelt, campaign manager for Mr. Smith, said the New York governor "is the most dangerous adversary the Republican Party has ever had to fear," and his name "spells victory."

After a comprehensive recital of Governor Smith's record during the years he had served in public office, picturing him as the warrior "invincible in defence of right and in attack on wrong," Mr. Roosevelt said the Democrats of the United States "will stand without fear and without hesitation loyally behind Mr. Smith" as the nominee of the convention.

Martin Luck of Wisconsin, seconding the nomination of Governor Smith, declared Wisconsin was for Smith because the country needed in Washington a style of leadership now sadly lacking.

William H. Mooney, of Montana, also seconded the Smith nomination. A. C. Ritchie NAMED

Howard Bruce, speaking for Maryland, placed in nomination Governor Albert C. Ritchie.

With the addition of Governor Smith and Governor Ritchie there are five names before the convention. Yesterday the names of Senator Underwood of Alabama, Governor Brough of Arkansas and William G. McAdoo were brought forward.

The balloting will take place after the adoption of the party platform by the convention. The platform is now being drafted by the committee named for that purpose.

COMMITTEE AT WORK
Planks already placed in the platform by the committee include: Law enforcement, omitting specific mention of prohibition; Federal Corrupt Practices Act; Federal regulation and control of the anthracite coal industry and of other corporations or combinations controlling the necessities of life; immediate independence for the Philippines, and enactment of legislation to prohibit the watering of stock.

STATES CANADA'S ATTITUDE CORRECT

Nationalist Newspaper of Cape Town Deals With Empire and Lausanne Treaty

Says King Government Aiding Constitutional Development of Empire

Cape Town, June 26.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)—The Dutch newspaper, De Burger, a Nationalist organ, which is edited by Daniel F. Malen, who represents the electoral division of Calvinia, in the Cape, in the Nationalist interest, discussing the test of the recent correspondence between the British Government and the Government of Canada on the subject of the Lausanne Conference and the peace settlement with Turkey, expresses strong approval of the attitude taken by Premier King.

The newspaper states that the work which has been done by the King Government in connection with the constitutional development of the Empire will undoubtedly receive strong support from the Nationalist Government of South Africa, but it points out that so long as the Outer world does not regard the Dominions as being on a level of complete equality with Great Britain and as long as Britain continues to do its utmost to leave the outer world in the dark as to the Empire's attitude in the matter of the Lausanne Treaty, it will have no direct effect.

ATTITUDE CONTRASTED
"The exchange of correspondence," it continues, "affords a concrete example of one of the two current opinions regarding Empire relationships. Canada has shown her determination to adhere to her rights in putting Canadian interests first."

"Contrast this with the attitude of General Smuts," it points out, "who, without consulting Parliament, Lausanne on behalf of the Union of South Africa and bound the Union to all sorts of stipulations in regard to Turkey which we had nothing to do. By this action General Smuts proved himself to be a protagonist of the greatest possible measure of Empire unity. For this he would sacrifice, if necessary, the rights of the component parts of the Empire."

RIGHT OF APPEAL WILL BE DECIDED

Case of Former Home Bank Officials Before British Privy Council

London, June 26 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today granted the Attorney-General of Great Britain, Sir Patrick Hastings, the right to intervene in the appeal of the Attorney-General of Ontario against the judgment of Mr. Justice Middleton of the Supreme Court of Ontario granting a speedy trial before a county judge to the accused former directors of the Home Bank of Canada.

A contention which will be submitted by the Attorney-General of Ontario through D. L. McCarthy, K.C., special prosecutor in the Home Bank cases, will raise the question whether the Canadian Parliament has the power to take away the prerogative right of appeal in criminal matters, which naturally involves raising in new form the question concerning the constitutional powers and status of Canada.

The Judicial Committee also decided that the Government of Canada should be represented by counsel.

OUR MAY QUEEN

To the Editor:—I would just like to ask why our May Queen is not going to Vancouver to represent Victoria in the July 1 celebrations. Is she not our queen for a year, and our representative for that time in such celebrations? I claim it is a direct insult to Her Majesty Queen Mona to send one over whom she won out by a large majority of votes. FAIRPLAY.

THE LIGHT CRUISERS

To the Editor:—With the departure of much to be regretted of H.M.S. Hood and Repulse and H.M.A.S. Adelaide from Victoria, it has been freely suggested that it would be a good plan to transfer the four cruisers of the Special Service Squadron from Esquimalt to Ogdén Point.

Although the traditions of the neighboring municipalities are inseparably with the navy, it is felt that Ogdén Point would be more accessible to the majority of our citizens, many of whom would find it difficult to go to Esquimalt. Again, it is obvious that interest in the light cruisers must have suffered, not so much on account of their smaller dimensions, but because of their great distance from the city and the fact that two are anchored in the middle of the harbor. It is to be hoped that representations to the naval authorities will be made to the effect that the suggestion as stated may be given effect to. To the mind of the average layman, there appears to exist no reason why it should not.

"NEPTUNE."

RAILWAY RATES MAY CRUSH MANY MANUFACTURERS

Another Plea
The Sidney Roofing and Paper Company, another of Victoria's larger manufacturing plants, writes in the same strain to Dr. Tolmie:

"Reinstatement of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement will without question shut us out of the Pacific markets even as far West as Calgary and Edmonton. Without that field it would be impossible for us to continue in business. Eliminate the practice proposed by the Crow's Nest Pass agreement and all are in a deplorable condition. The new rates would cut our ratio of distribution from 1,000 to about 500 miles. Anything you can do would be appreciated."

VANCOUVER'S AID

The Vancouver Board of Trade rallied to assist the Victoria people in their fight, for the feeling runs as high on the Mainland as it does here. This organization unanimously passed a resolution which was immediately forwarded to Ottawa, urging that the discrimination in favor of the East against the West be broken down, and that the Dominion Government move to prevent the Crow's Nest freight rates agreement coming into effect.

The transportation bureau recommends to the Council of the Board that representations be made to Ottawa, urging that the further suspension of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement be carried on for a period of two years further, or until such time as this question can be fully investigated by an independent and impartial tribunal.

NO REPRESENTATION

Press statements appearing in Vancouver papers on Tuesday and Wednesday announced a conference called by the Dominion Cabinet for Friday next, to discuss the whole question of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement. The Vancouver Board has expressed to the Premier their disappointment that British Columbia was apparently not mentioned in regard to a conference, and so far as Vancouver authorities are aware no invitation has been received by this Province to participate. If this is a conference of a final character, the Vancouver Board states, before action is to be taken by Parliament, then we have registered a strong protest against any such action being taken until an opportunity is afforded to British Columbia to be heard.

VANCOUVER VIEW

Vancouver, June 26.—Suspension of the Crow's Nest Pass railway freight rate agreement for another two years, or until such time as the whole question has been fully investigated by an impartial tribunal. It is asked by the council of the Vancouver Board of Trade, which held a special meeting yesterday to consider the issue. The action was taken following news that a conference would be held in Ottawa on Friday, to which province representatives had been invited. Crow's Nest Pass rates have been sent to Premier King and all the British Columbia members, urging that there be a further suspension.

CROW'S NEST RATES WOULD ADD TO PRESENT DISCRIMINATION AGAINST B.C. OLIVER WARNS

Winnipeg, 1,465 miles, rate 171. From Montreal to Winnipeg, 1,415 miles, present rate 114, proposed rate 79½, present discrimination 57½, proposed discrimination 90½ or 115 per cent. Pains and oils, Vancouver to Winnipeg, 1,465 miles, present rate 142. Montreal to Winnipeg, 1,415 miles, present rate 114, proposed rate 79½, present discrimination 57½, proposed discrimination 90½ or 115 per cent.

The manufacture of paints, bladders, twines, and rope, paper mills and other industries, as well as distribution businesses will suffer tremendous losses.

"Many other similar examples could be given. We are not opposing the restoration of Crow's Nest Pass rates, but we are asking the government to place British Columbia in an equitable position similar to that enjoyed by the people of other parts of the Dominion. We would refer you to my evidence before Select Committee of Parliament dealing with Crow's Nest Pass rates. Report of Evidence, May 29, 1922."

APPEAL TO CITIZENS TO GIVE WELCOME TO LIGHT CRUISERS

Other forms of entertainment to the personnel of those ships," Mr. Harvey said.

Ten days of entertainment have been arranged for the four cruisers, planned to meet all tastes. It is announced that the street dances will be postponed and their place will be taken by dances at the Armory.

THANKS CITIZENS

Before leaving Victoria Vice-Admiral Field sent to the Mayor a formal letter of thanks, as follows:

"I desire on behalf of the Special Service Squadron, to convey to you and the City Council our most sincere thanks for the generous welcome and hospitality extended to officers and men during our stay. I would also beg you to thank on our behalf the members of the entertainment committee and all those who assisted them in organizing the most generous programme of entertainments. I can assure you that every item of it has been most thoroughly enjoyed. 'In particular I would ask that our thanks may be conveyed to the owners of private motor cars who have provided drives for more than 1,000 men of the squadron, thereby enabling them to see something of the beautiful country surrounding Victoria. Their kindness has been most deeply appreciated. 'We have all been deeply impressed by the beauty of the city of Victoria and its surroundings, and by its fine public and private buildings. I congratulate Vancouver Island on possessing two such excellent harbors as Victoria and Esquimalt, and it has added greatly to the pleasure of our stay that so many ships of the squadron were able to berth alongside. 'Our thanks are specially due to J. P. Ford, Public Works Engineer, for his work in connection with the special dredging necessary to bring the Hood alongside, and to A. C. Burdick for his services in providing tugs. 'We leave with the happiest memories of our stay in your beautiful city to which we wish all prosperity and success in the future."

S. J. Crowe, of the mainland city, who was instructed to communicate the sentiments of the board to the other senators of British Columbia. MESSAGE TO THORNTON

From C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, the following message was conveyed to Sir Henry Thornton, supplementing the Vancouver telegram: "Vancouver Board of Trade at our request have adopted resolutions urging the Senate of Canada to accept your advice recommending the construction of the two lines on Vancouver Island as contained in the Branch Line Bill, and Senators from that city have been so advised by that organization."

Previous messages from Ottawa stated that the Senate Railway Committee had thrown out the bill, and according to J. H. King, drastic and immediate action was necessary. In fighting telegrams Mr. Schwengers and the board of directors kept the wires busy from Victoria to Ottawa, with the result that the lines have passed the critical stages and their building is practically assured.

A night letter was sent to Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Premier of Canada; Hon. Arthur Meighen, Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works; Hon. H. Bostock and Rt. Hon. Sir George Foster, from Victoria, which read as follows: "Business interests assembled today passed resolution strongly urging passage of Canadian National Railway Branch Lines Bill for Vancouver Island, and to the effect that 2,000,000 carloads first class standing timber. Projected road would provide immediate outlet to supply mills and prove remunerative from inception. Similar road operated by Canadian Pacific most profitable unit of their system and cannot cope with increased demand for lumber. Double tracking. Lines would open up virgin dormant territory and would make entire national system on Island remunerative."

association at a meeting this forenoon. "We strongly recommend that the postal employees apply immediately to the Postmaster General, who has asked for such a committee, the way seems to be wide open for the strike to be cleared up to-day and the dispute settled immediately."

GOVERNMENT STANDS FIRM

Hon. Charles Stewart, Acting Postmaster-General, expressed surprise at the kind of information being given to the strikers by federation leaders, according to a dispatch received here. "The government is firm in its decision that no more negotiations are possible, and that as far as it is concerned the strike is over. The Montreal, Toronto and Windsor Postmasters are making great efforts to distribute the mails. In Montreal the service is reported to be practically normal, but in Toronto and Windsor, where no work is being done by a great number of substitute workers, conditions are improving very slowly."

TO HEAR DEPUTATION

Regina, June 26.—That the Government will receive a deputation of western postal workers as soon as an opportunity occurs in the present pressure of other important business is the gist of a telegram received from Hon. Charles Stewart, Acting Postmaster-General, by Charles Gardner of Regina, national secretary of the Amalgamated Civil Servants. According to Mr. Gardner, the organization's executive board will name a delegation to go to Ottawa to interview the Government when the Minister indicates the proper time has arrived.

ervative leadership. H. H. Stevens, M.P. for Vancouver, who has been mentioned, but the Conservatives have arrived here to-day. Stevens, who would not support Mr. Stevens on account of his unfavorable attitude towards Mr. Bowser in the recent election, is generally admitted, seriously affected the Conservative Party's prospects. R. H. Pooley, of Esquimalt; Colonel Cyrus Peck, of the Islands; Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Jones are all mentioned for the leadership.

RESULTS SOON

"Well, you'll know all about it in a few days now," Stevens remarked this afternoon before he and his colleagues went to see Mr. Bowser. "My future is in the lap of the gods," Mr. Bowser remarked cheerily to-day when asked what he intended to do. "No, I am not worrying in the least about the result of the election. It is all part of the game and a man would be foolish to allow it to hurt him."

Serafini and Davis Are on Hunger Strike in Montreal Jail

Four Others Under Death Sentence For Bank Automobile Murder

Montreal, June 26.—With Guiseppe Serafini and Leo Davis, two of the six bandits sentenced to death for the Hochelaga Bank collection car holdup and murders last April, on a hunger strike, Tony Frank, another of the bandits is reported to be very ill. Frank Gambino's cell is littered with religious pictures and he is continually holding a rosary and telling over his beads. Mike Valentino is very voluble. He has been crying day and night since he heard his sentence and exclaiming that he is innocent.

According to the governor of the jail, Louis Morel, former state attorney of the Montreal police force, is the only one of the six condemned bandits who is bearing up well. L. W. Jacobs, K.C., defence counsel for Frank and Serafini, appeared before the council of the bar of the Province of Quebec yesterday and requested the council to investigate all rumors which have been published in regard to his conduct in the defence of the bandits.

M.P.'S WILL HEAR FORMER SOLDIERS

Western Canadian Veterans Will State Their Views on Pension Affairs

Regina, June 26.—The western half of Canada will be represented at Ottawa next week when representatives of returned soldiers in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba will appear before the Commons committee dealing with returned soldier legislation. Saskatchewan ex-service men will have as spokesman M. A. McPherson, president of the Regina branch of the G.W.V.A., and Colonel James McAra, president of the provincial branch and vice-president of the Dominion branch of the same organization. They will leave for Ottawa Friday evening. Other representatives from the western provinces are expected to arrive in Ottawa Sunday. A tentative date for their appearance before the committee has been set for next Wednesday.

The western men will ask that the pension bonus be made permanent. They will also ask a reorganization of the pension tariff at Ottawa and urge action for relief of soldier settlers. The delegation will also ask that the question of the jurisdiction of the Pension Appeal Board be settled for all time and will appeal for co-operation between the Pension Commission and the appeal body. In effect the westerners will press for the carrying out of the recommendations in the report of the Ralston Committee.

London, June 26.—Baron Arnold, Under-Secretary for the Colonies, informed the House of Lords yesterday that the British Government had instructed its Ambassador in Washington to inform the United States Government that Great Britain had reached the conclusion it was desirable that the conduct of matters at Washington exclusively relating to the Irish Free State should be entrusted to a minister plenipotentiary accredited to the United States. He added that the Government trusted this proposal would be acceptable to the United States.

Recent dispatches from Dublin stated that Professor Timothy A. Smiddy of Cork had been appointed Minister of the Irish Free State to the United States, approval having been given by the British Government.

FOSTER SAYS WORLD IS GROWING BETTER

Senator Addresses National Conference on Social Work in Toronto

Toronto, June 26.—The world is getting better, Sir George Foster told the delegates to the National Conference on Social Work, assembled here last night for the first of the general sessions. Whatever period of history they compared with the present time, he said, they would find that at no time was the spirit of brotherhood and service so pronounced.

Grace Abbott, president of the conference and chief of the children's bureau of the Department of Labor of the United States, spoke of the advances that had been made with regard to the solving of social problems through the gradual linking up of the world. In the matter of health of mothers and babies, forty of the states in the Union had agreed that it was a subject for national co-operation.

The city's welcome to the delegates was extended by Controller J. J. Gibbons. Yesterday about 1,200 delegates arrived from all parts of the United States and Canada, and it is expected that by to-night the number will have increased to between 2,000 and 4,000.

BOOTLEG LIQUOR IN LOS ANGELES VERY BAD, SAYS JOHNSON

Los Angeles, June 26.—The quality of Los Angeles liquor is nothing to brag about, according to William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, prominently identified with the prohibition movement and at present on a lecture tour of Southern California. Mr. Johnson scented a still, led federal prohibition agents to it, helped them demolish it and then passed judgment on the sun-kissed moonshine he had helped to uncover with:

"When! Without a doubt, the very worst I've ever seen—or smelled!"

A score were injured, more than 300 houses were unroofed in Wilmington and much damage done to business places. Roofs were tossed into streets, windows smashed and hundreds of trees were uprooted.

OLD AGE PENSION PLAN IS EXTENDED

British Government's Proposals Given Approval by House of Commons

London, June 26 (Canadian Press Cable).—A quarter of a million elderly persons in Great Britain will benefit as a result of the extension of the old age pension scheme, which has received the approval of the Commons. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, when introducing the necessary financial resolution to-day, said single persons having an income, not necessarily earned, of twenty-five shillings a week will be entitled to a pension of ten shillings weekly and married couples whose income is fifty shillings weekly will be entitled to £1 jointly a week.

The cost of the additional scheme will be £4,000,000 in the first year, and will increase to £7,000,000. The proposals, said the Minister, in no wise could be regarded as a final settlement of the problem of old age pensions. He hoped shortly to submit a scheme of mothers' and widows' pensions and reduce the age limit to sixty-five.

SAYS HOTEL SCRIBE GROWING IN VALUE

Canadian Resident of Paris States Opinion to Committee of Commons

Senator Wilson States C.N.R. Building Best Property in France

Ottawa, June 26.—Louis Pratt, a Canadian residing in Paris, who advised Sir Henry Thornton in regard to the purchase of the Hotel Scribe, informed the Commons committee which is considering the estimates of the Canadian National Railways and the Government Merchant Marine yesterday that rentals and property values had increased tremendously in the neighborhood of the hotel since 1919, when he located in Paris. He regarded the property as one of the finest in Paris, and he felt it would increase steadily in value.

"What is your opinion of the price of $2,700,000 paid for the hotel?" asked G. W. Kyle, Liberal, Cape Breton.

The general opinion among business men of the vicinity is that it was a good buy," said Mr. Pratt. Business men in Paris, he said, had been under the impression that the price paid was $3,000,000, which they regarded as a reasonable price.

Senator Wilson, who inspected the hotel, described it as the best property in Central Europe from a business point of view.

Taylor's Charges Against C.N.R. Are Declared Petty

Ottawa, June 26.—Senator Haydon, discussing in the Senate yesterday afternoon the Taylor charges against the Canadian National Railway administration on the Pacific Coast, said from his personal knowledge there was no more honorable man in Canada than Reginald Temple, the regional counsel for the Canadian National Railways at Winnipeg, who had conducted the inquiry into the charges at Vancouver. He said Mr. Temple was a Conservative and a political opponent of his, but occupied a very high place in the estimation of all the members of the legal profession.

He strongly attacked the character and intent of Senator Taylor's charges, describing them as petty and questioning the motive of the author. It appeared to him as if Senator Taylor had decided first on his objective and then sought to find evidence to justify it.

In answer to Senator Taylor's assertion there had been graft in the purchase of lumber, he read a letter from the Timber Industries Council containing a resolution viewing with regret the charges against the railway company and the attempt to drag the company into politics and declaring the road was honestly and efficiently managed. He read another letter from forty lumber firms addressed to Senator Taylor, in which they declared that unwarranted aspersions had been made on the railway management.

In concluding, Senator Haydon said the facts did not warrant the charges made nor the inference drawn. He felt that if the Senate had no more work than to investigate such trivial charges, it should be abolished.

CHARGES AGAINST MURDOCK DISPROVED

Minister's Withdrawal of Home-Bank Deposit Was Quite in Order

Took His Seat in House Again After M.P.'s Had Voted

Ottawa, June 26.—At 3.30 o'clock this morning the House approved by a vote of 119 to 44 the report of its Committee on Privileges and Elections that the Porter charges against Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, had been disproved, and Mr. Murdock, enthusiastically cheered by the Liberals, again took his seat in the House.

The Liberals voted solidly for the report, and the Conservatives against it. There was a split among the Progressives.

As the debate drew to a close there were some sharp clashes and frequent appeals to the chair.

HOME BANK INCIDENT

The report of the committee exonerated Mr. Murdock from charges of acting contrary to his obligations as a Minister and in derogation of the honor of the House of Commons.

The charges arose from the fact that two days before the collapse of the Home Bank, Mr. Murdock withdrew his deposit of $4,000 from its Ottawa branch. E. Guess Porter, Conservative, West Hastings, Ontario, made the accusation that Mr. Murdock had used information obtained as a Cabinet Minister that the failure of the bank was imminent.

After the debate the first division, 149 to 29, came on an amendment that the charges against Mr. Murdock had been sustained. The Liberals and Progressives voted against the amendment, and the Conservatives voted for it.

Immediately after the defeat of the amendment William Irvine, Labor, East Calgary, moved another amendment which would have had the effect of leaving a Scottish verdict of "Not proved."

Mr. Meighen intimated that the Conservatives could not support the Irvine amendment.

The Irvine amendment was defeated by 129 to 22, those voting for it coming from the Progressive ranks.

WILL NOT ABANDON TASK IN THE SUDAN

Britain Makes Clear Its Attitude; Egyptian Premier to Visit London

London, June 26 (Canadian Press Cable).—The British Government announced yesterday that it is not going to abandon the Sudan in any sense whatever.

This definite endorsement of the policy of the previous Government was proclaimed by Lord Parmoor, Lord President of the Council, in the House of Lords and carries great significance in view of the impending visit of the Egyptian Premier, Zaghloul Pasha, to confer with the British Government on outstanding questions between the countries and to discuss the Egyptian demand for cession of the Sudan.

Viscount Grey, former Liberal Foreign Secretary, insisted that in the forthcoming negotiations the Government should make it quite clear that the Egyptian Government had no say at all in the question of the Sudan. The only exception must be in the Nile waters which, he said, was a case for a joint Egyptian-Sudan commission. He considered that the questions of Egypt, Sudan and Iraq were inter-dependent and he earnestly urged the Government

THE CHAMBER'S GOOD WORK

ALTHOUGH the original programme may be slightly curtailed, the people of this community will have learned with considerable satisfaction that the vigorous representations which the local Chamber of Commerce made to Ottawa, in respect of Canadian National construction on the Island, have been eminently successful.

In obtaining the desired reconsideration of the bills by the Senate Committee the good offices of Hon. Dr. King and the Vancouver Island senators were energetically employed. To these gentlemen this part of the Province owes thanks and it will congratulate the Chamber of Commerce for making its influence felt to such effective purpose. The co-operation which the Vancouver Board of Trade so willingly lent will also be remembered with warm appreciation.

Development of Vancouver Island is naturally dependent to an important degree upon the extension of transportation to new areas of production. Such expansion as will now be made possible will add to the prosperity of this section and furnish good business for the railway.

THE NAVY LEAGUE

IN view of the facts that the cost of the Singapore naval base project was to be borne by the people of the United Kingdom, and that the majority of the elected representatives of those people voted against the proposal in Parliament, there seems to be an element of doubtful propriety in the resolution adopted by the Dominion Council of the Navy League of Canada yesterday, urging the British Government to proceed with the work.

There is no doubt that in rejecting the scheme the British Parliament reflected the will of the vast majority of the British people, who are confronted with problems of much greater and more pressing moment than the establishment of the Singapore base. Their debt is very nearly twelve times as large as it was before the war. There are more than one million workers out of employment. Many hundreds of millions of dollars are paid out on unemployment account. The housing problem is critical. Obviously, with these conditions, which vitally affect the very foundation of the nation's existence, demanding immediate remedies, it is not hard to understand why Parliament shelved the Singapore proposal until the domestic situation improved.

We make this comment, however, with all appreciation of the excellent work performed by the Navy League of Canada in the year under review. This is particularly the case in respect of that part of the League's programme which has to do with training Canadian youth for service at sea. Hundreds of young Canadians have been placed on Canadian ships plying all over the world. The Victoria branch of the League alone has provided careers on the sea for several score boys, some of whom now hold high posts. The big Canadian steamship companies in fact take no cadets who do not come to them from the training establishments of the Navy League. The possibilities of this branch of the League's activities are almost beyond limit and should command the generous support of every interest in Canada concerned in the development of the Canadian mercantile marine, as a factor in the promotion of Canadian foreign trade, so vital to the material progress of the Dominion.

The League is fortunate in having at its head Mr. Sam Harris, a prominent businessman of Ontario, who is now giving all his time and exceptional energy to a cause which he has taken very closely to his heart. Under such unselfish and public-spirited leadership and with the ardent co-operation of such men as Mr. D. C. Coleman, General Lessard and Major W. H. Langley, the work of the League is bound to prosper to the marked advantage of the whole Dominion.

ACTIONS THAT COUNT

PEOPLE throughout the British Empire may be disappointed that the United States is neither a member of the League of Nations nor falling over her feet in a hurry to help to clean up the mess in Europe; but it should be some consolation to them to learn that our neighbors across the way seize every opportunity which presents itself to show British people that the republic is a real friend.

The magnificent reception which the American people accorded to the Prince of Wales, the admiration which press and populace have manifested towards British statesmen who have visited the United States on official and unofficial missions, the cordial expressions of good will to which many prominent men have given expression, to say nothing of the repeated assurances of warm friendship which have reached the British people through the American Ambassador in London—in language which does not always mark diplomatic utterances—is all that is necessary to demonstrate how popular sentiment actually makes up for what political action has not yet furnished.

In view of these facts it is an excellent thing that the British Special Service Squadron should visit an American port. How the people of San Francisco are looking forward to the three-day halt at the Golden Gate is reflected in the news dispatches which announce almost a feverish anxiety lest a single strip of bunting of significance to British people should not be unearthed in time. These are the friendly gestures which count most after all.

THE "MOUNTIES" AT MACLEOD

TO commemorate the anniversary of the establishment of the Northwest Mounted Police in Macleod, fifty years ago, The Lethbridge Herald has published a special number whose forty pages include an extremely interesting and detailed narrative of this magnificent body from the time it arrived at its farthest West post until the present day.

The first three days of July have been selected for the celebrations which are to be held to give pleasant point to this interesting anniversary, and those whose years may not permit them to fill in the gap of time which has elapsed will discover that Mr. W. A. Buchanan, the President of The Lethbridge Herald, has presented half a century of history in form that should appeal to every Canadian who still thrills at the sight of the red coat of the "Mountie."

From the journalistic and mechanical point of view the special number which The Herald has produced is a credit to the profession. The mass of information so pleasingly assembled and presented well entitles this anniversary issue to a place of honor with those other excellent examples of progressive journalism which have gone before.

WHY THE SUSPICION

OUR morning contemporary has surrounded itself with an atmosphere of suspicion because the Liberals are counting on the absentee vote to change the complexion of one or two political fortunes in their favor.

Somewhat gingerly The Colonist hints at possible manipulation, and proceeds to erect an ugly little straw man, which it hides behind a recommendation that the elections law be amended so as to safeguard still more the secrecy of the ballots of the absentee voter.

It should be easy for the morning paper to restore its peace of mind by putting the Government's confidence in this respect along with Mr. Bowser's eighty per cent. victory and Dr. Tolmie's great wave of Conservatism.

But it should weep no editorial tears if the Government's expectations are realized more nearly than were those of its opponents.

July 12 must seem a long way off to certain political aspirants who are saying "to be or not to be."

San Francisco is going to give the British Special Service Squadron a royal welcome. This is the British-American tie strengthened.

Officers and men of the visiting warships will be able to take pleasant recollections of Victoria away with them. Our climate and scenery will be well advertised when they get back.

The name of Meighen doesn't seem to be political legal tender in this country now. Mr. Arthur Meighen, a cousin of the former Prime Minister, was unable to ride to victory on the great Conservative wave which Dr. Tolmie assured us was sweeping the country. Mayor Colley, a good Liberal, will represent Kamloops in the provincial Legislature instead.

PROTECTION FAILS TO PROTECT

H. E. Spencer, M.P. (Battle River) in House of Commons
The protectionist interests are perhaps beginning to learn that they cannot successfully preach increased tariffs and reduced wages at one and the same time. The tariff has failed to protect Canadian industry; it has failed to maintain purchasing power in the home market for Canadian goods. It has apparently been of very little benefit to Canadian manufacturers. The tariff has certainly been no protection to Canadian workers against unemployment. I agree with J. M. Keyes, the noted economist, that protection cannot cure unemployment.

RIGHT AND WRONG THRILLS

From The Kingston Standard
A ghastly reason is that given for the murder of the boy Jacob Franks by the two sons of millionaires that they wanted "thrills." The assumption is that wealth had enabled them to become tired of the usual forms of excitement of such wayward young men. Presumably their lives had not taught them that the greatest and finest thrills which they could obtain would be obtained by using their brains and their money in rendering the lives of others happier. To seek out the poor and needy, the suffering, the sick, those who required rest and change, and to minister to them, would have given them "thrills" such as they had never dreamed of.

SUN THROUGH GLASS

A lens catches the sun
And draws to a point of fire
The flaming forces scattered
Through a world of desire.

The lens is unharmed, unchanged,
But that on which it turns
The mighty flame it gathers
Shrives and burns.

It may be well to heart
In clear enough to pass
The light that it would gather
Like sun through glass.

For misted lights of dreams
And strange lights caught somehow
From sun and eyes and moonlight
Burn even now.

The lens is unchanged; the heart
Burns with the light it captures,
Falling at last in ashes
Of sorrows and raptures.

Yes, bring on which it turns
Its strange light, flaming, glowing,
Which it would gather
Hardly knowing.

Dr. Frank Crane on
"The Rules of the Game of Love"

(Copyright)

SOMETIME ago I published an article on the Rules of the Game, in the latter part of which I referred to love and said it also had its rules as well as everything else. I have been in receipt of many letters asking me for the rules of the game of love, some of which emphasized the point that there are no rules; that "All is fair in Love and War!"

A city clerk, Michael J. Cruise, head of the Marriage License Bureau, which issues about thirty-five thousand marriage licenses a year, has gotten out a little pamphlet which answers this question for me.

He has a list of Don'ts for Wives and an equivalent list of Don'ts for husbands. Here they are. His list of Don'ts for wives is as follows:

"Don't nag."
"Don't let your house or yourself get untidy."
"Don't gossip about the neighbor's troubles."
"Don't trump hubby's ace in a bridge game."
"Don't make catty remarks if he snores."
Be sympathetic.

"Don't get millinery mania or a clothes complex."
"Don't get peeved if he shows he likes a pretty face in your presence."

"Don't cabaret unless he is with you."
"Don't encourage relatives to park at your house."

"Don't grouch if he is late for dinner."
The Don'ts for husbands are as follows:

"Don't be a tightwad."
"Don't be a killjoy."
"Don't wait till she's dead to send her flowers."

"Don't take boarders, male or female."
"Don't sneer at her dog if she has one."
"Don't think she's a dumbbell. Treat her human."

"Don't forget she works as hard as you do—and gets less."
"Don't make a fuss over other women unless she is present."

"Don't treat her rough. She may fool you."
"Don't love her less or yourself more."
These may be superficial, but they are rules none the less and those who observe them may find them beneficial.

Perhaps they are as good as any I might give.

The one simple rule that is sufficient not only for love but for anything else is to do as you would be done by.

It is justice and not charity that most people want. It is to be treated justly and honestly that especially every woman wants.

We cannot do this unless we accustom ourselves to take another's point of view and put ourselves in another's place.

The great enemy of love is egotism; thinking too much of ourselves and not enough of others.

If we accustom ourselves to think of others there is little difficulty in keeping the rules of love; the difficulties we are in will solve themselves.

Gross Misrepresentation
By London TimesCANADA'S ATTITUDE ON LAUSANNE
TREATY

(From London Daily Express)

BY the publication of the White-paper of May 25 and the recent speeches of Mr. Mackenzie King in the Canadian Parliament and of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald at Westminster, the true facts about Canada's attitude towards the Lausanne Treaty have been established. Public opinion here will now do justice to the position of the Dominion. That it has not done so heretofore has been chiefly due to the mischievous activities of The Times, which, with a perfectly reckless disregard either for proved evidence or for the cause of Imperial unity, started a violent campaign last April against the bona fides of the Canadian Premier.

On April 9 the Times said (1) that Canada had had the chance of sending representatives to Lausanne and had deliberately ignored the opportunity; (2) that at the Imperial Conference Canada had made no protest against being bound unrepresented by the decisions taken at Lausanne; (3) it went on to draw the conclusion that Mr. Mackenzie King's subsequent refusal to put the treaty before the Dominion Parliament for ratification was "a thoroughly reckless disregard either for proved evidence or for the cause of Imperial unity, started a violent campaign last April against the bona fides of the Canadian Premier."

The first charge was disproved by the White-paper, and The Times had to withdraw it in a very reluctant and giggling fashion. As to the second charge, it now appears, although the actual documents are not yet published, in spite of Canadian protests, that Mr. Mackenzie King did object at the Imperial Conference, and made his whole position in the matter perfectly clear to the representatives of the Empire. The Times has not yet honestly withdrawn its remarks on this point, though it will clearly have to do so. The third charge, that "electioneering" clearly falls to the ground with the failure of the first two. The Times now asks plaintively how it could be expected to know in April or in May what it knows now. The answer is a very simple one. It should not have made a series of offensive charges against a great British Dominion and its distinguished Premier without knowing what it was talking about. Such irresponsible journalism, in matters of grave Imperial importance, is to be deprecated. As a consequence, Canada was never given a fair show at the bar of British public opinion, and a good deal of mischief has been done on both sides of the Atlantic before true judgment could be delivered.

THE Times, however, is not yet satisfied with the part it has taken in setting the Imperial heather on fire. It falls back on accusing Canada of wishing to take advantage of the peace with Turkey while refusing to undertake the responsibilities—such as guarding the Straits—which it involves. Such a charge shows that, however well The Times is qualified to understand American opinion, it knows nothing whatever about Dominion sentiment as expressed in the arrangement of treaty after treaty. In the projected pact for the defence of the western Rhine frontier between the United States, Britain, and France, Canada contracted out of all military obligation except as the result of a vote given by the Ottawa Parliament. The claim of a Dominion to be an international party to a treaty made by Great Britain, while retaining the right to fight in defence of that treaty only by special and local parliamentary approval, is admitted by the practice of the whole Empire since 1914. This is all Mr. Mackenzie King claims, and since the Canadian Opposition leader, Mr. Meighen, refused his challenge to put the entire Lausanne Treaty to the vote it must be assumed that he speaks for Canada. British public opinion will approve that claim nor would there have been any misunderstanding if The Times could have refrained from playing with fire.

A "FORESTER'S PARADISE"

VANCOUVER ISLAND POSSESSES DENSEST STAND OF MATURED SOFTWOOD IN EXISTENCE.

Island's Annual Cut One Two Hundredth Part of Its Total Resources

VANCOUVER ISLAND for its size, contains the densest and most valuable stand of mature softwood timber on the earth's surface.

It possesses one-third of the timber in British Columbia—one-sixth of Canada's total stand. Into its area of 12,000 square miles is squeezed one-thirtieth of the world's available softwood supply.

Vancouver Island has been called a "forester's paradise," because in no place are conditions more favorable for a continuous new growth to replace the raw material now ready for the saw.

This favored Island possesses 42,000,000,000 feet, or sixty per cent of all the Douglas fir saw timber in the Province. Her cut last year of this species did not exceed 600,000,000 feet.

The Island also grows thirty-six per cent of the red cedar and forty-two per cent of the Western Hemlock in British Columbia. More than one-fifth of the world's existing supply of these two great species is to be found on Vancouver Island.

Yet the annual timber cut of the Island forests is only about a two-hundredth part of its total stand.

There are between seventy and eighty saw mills and shingle mills on Vancouver Island, representing a capital of $15,000,000, and about 200 logging concerns, including some of the largest in British Columbia, have invested another $25,000,000 in camps, railroads and equipment.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

When H. E. Tanner, manager of the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, appeared before the Railway Board here yesterday afternoon, and explained that the Canadian Express Company, operating on the C.N.R. would no longer adhere to the distribution rate over the system set last year of $3.20 per 100 pounds, but that a full second class rate would prevail, Assistant Chief Commissioner S. J. McLean promised he would telegraph to headquarters about the matter. This was done immediately the board rose.

The Navy League of Canada yesterday decided to hold its next meeting in Winnipeg. Few changes were made in the roll of officers. J. O. Hyndman, of Charlottetown, P.E.I. and R. B. PIONEERS CELEBRATED WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AT PENDER ISLAND

Pender Island, June 25.—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Menzies last evening received the congratulations of the community when a large party of friends and neighbors gathered to celebrate with them the fortieth anniversary of their wedding. The affair was instituted as a complete surprise to the honored couple, who, though thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed the thoughtfulness of their friends in their desire to acknowledge such an important occasion.

A delicious repast was served on the lawn, Mrs. A. Hamilton and Mrs. J. A. Brackett presiding at the tables and a number of ladies assisted. Mrs. W. B. Johnston, daughter of Mrs. Menzies, and Mrs. V. W. Menzies, daughter-in-law, in serving the guests. During the evening a number of congratulatory messages and tokens of esteem were delivered to Mr. and Mrs. Menzies by Mrs. R. S. W. Corbett, an old friend and associate, and by Rev. J. C. Alder, on behalf of those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Menzies were married in Milton, North Dakota, on June 24, 1884, where the "bride," then Miss Henrietta MacDonald, had a pre-emption claim at that time. They settled in Springfield, Manitoba, on the farm which Mrs. Menzies had bought some time before, and there remained in spite of many handicaps and hardships for over seven years. In 1892 they moved with their three eldest children to New Westminster, and three years later to Pender Island where they have resided ever since. Here, through thirty years of hard work, Mr. Menzies has become the owner of one of the largest farms on the island and won for himself a reputation as a dairyman and Jersey breeder. He and Mrs. Menzies have now retired from the more strenuous side of life, and their eldest son, Mr. Victor Menzies, has charge of the farm. Mr. and Mrs. Menzies are both strong and active and prominent in all that goes on. Their many friends will wish them continued health and happiness together for years to come. Dr. A. M. Menzies of Britannia Beach is a son, and Mrs. H. B. Harris and Miss Ruth Menzies of Victoria are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Menzies.

SMART WEDDING AT CATHEDRAL TO-DAY

Many Guests at Marriage of Miss Gwen Rant and Capt. J. McIlreath

With brilliant sunshine to grace the day, one of the smartest weddings of the season took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Christ Church Cathedral when the Rev. William Barton united in marriage Gwyneth Jean, daughter of Captain and Mrs. W. J. Rant, "Beverly," Burnside Road, and Captain John Raymond McIlreath, D.S.O., only son of Colonel J. H. McIlreath, L.S.O., and Mrs. McIlreath of Carberry Gardens.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, made a fascinating picture of youth and charm in her wedding gown of white crepe de Chine, simply fashioned in Grecian style, with pearl girdle and long tangles of pearls. The handsome Brussels net veil was attached to the coiffure with a wreath of orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of Ophelia roses completed the charming attire. The only ornament worn was a handsome brooch of pearls. As maid of honor, Miss Audrey Rant, sister of the bride, wore a frock of mauve crepe de Chine, which was worn a Dutch cap of silver lace trimmed with small rosettes of mauve and apricot chiffon. The groom wore a smart tuxedo, and the bridesmaids in their dresses of mauve georgette with lace hats. Their bouquets as well as that of the maid of honor were composed of mauve sweet peas with touches of pink.

The groom was supported by Mr. Kenneth Raymer, while Mr. James Gray and Mr. W. C. Merston acted as ushers. The occasion was marked by the presence of many of the guests of the bride and groom, who were seated in the nave of the cathedral. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Barton, who was assisted by Mr. J. H. McIlreath, D.S.O., and Mr. J. H. McIlreath, L.S.O. The wedding was a most successful one, and the guests were entertained to a reception at the home of the bride and groom.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party returned to the home of the bride and groom, where a reception was held. The bride and groom were surrounded by a large number of guests, who were entertained to a reception at the home of the bride and groom.

AUXILIARY SHOWED FINE YEAR'S WORK

Jubilee Hospital W.A. Plan Efforts to Keep Institution Up-to-Date

With the incentive of the new hospital to inspire them, the Women's Auxiliary to the Provincial Jubilee Hospital last year achieved a tremendous amount of invaluable work, as was shown in the reports presented at the annual meeting yesterday.

In her annual address Mrs. Rhodes, speaking of the new hospital, urged the members to still greater effort, saying "by the time we as a society have turned over our available moneys to the board our treasury will be very low and we must plan for the work of the coming year to keep the hospital up to date."

The report of the treasurer showed that $1,421.42 had been raised during the year by means of dues, donations and the tag day, which with the balance of $4,607.32 brought the total receipts up to $6,028.74. Expenditure amounted to $1,551.53. The report was audited free of charge by A. L. Collison in appreciation of the excellent treatment given him at the hospital during his illness.

Mrs. Herbert Pendray, the secretary, reviewed the year's work in an interesting report. Mrs. E. H. Griffiths, convener of the sewing circle, gave an account of the vast amount of sewing accomplished in the way of new articles and in repair work and appealed for still more workers to attend the meetings, which will recommence in September.

Mrs. Hermann Robertson reported an increase in membership, the total now being 479, and appealed to all members to send in their dues without delay.

The fish-pond, where realistic little swans and ducks could be angled for, was in charge of Mrs. McKenna, who was assisted by Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. McKenna. The candy stall in blue and gold with charming novelty boxes was in charge of Mrs. M. Briggs and Miss Mary Stewart.

The fancy work table attracted a great deal of attention. Mrs. Scallins and Mrs. Moffitt having many choice wares for sale. A handsome leather club bag was raffled by Mrs. Moffitt and won by Mrs. McQuade. The Catholic clergy of the city and the Christian Brothers were guests of the League, and the general convener, Mrs. A. Sabin, the proceeds of the fête were well over $300 with several raffles to be heard from later.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair
If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Multisifted coconut oil shampoo which is pure and greaseless, and better than anything else you can use. Two or three applications of Multisifted is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses off easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess of the hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage.

Canadian Association Would Institute Ten-Hour Working Day
Hamilton, Ont., June 26.—After considerable discussion yesterday delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian National Association of Trained Nurses decided to recommend to superintendents of hospitals that ten hours constitute a working day, with the day to end at 6 o'clock. Long hours, it was asserted, was causing over-fatigue and nurses had weakened under the strain and was forcing them out of the profession.

Miss Jean E. Browne, Toronto, was re-elected president; Miss Kate Matheson, Toronto, vice-president; Miss M. Horsey, Montreal, second vice-president; Miss M. F. Gray, Regina, honorary secretary; and Miss Mary Shaw, Quebec, honorary treasurer.

THE DUTCH BOB

Bobbed Hair
Is becoming to most women, but it is important to remember that the combing and brushing of long hair actually stimulate the scalp, while with bobbed hair this stimulation is lacking.

If hair is bobbed, frequent massaging of the scalp is absolutely necessary and splendid results are obtained by applying a small quantity of Newbro's Herculite with each massage.

Pure and clear, without stain or dye, Herculite may be used with absolute confidence, to stimulate the scalp, prevent dandruff and falling hair and as an aid to hair-health and beauty. A single trial will convince you of its merit. On sale at all drug counters.

FILIPINOS NOT READY YET FOR INDEPENDENCE

This is the Opinion of G. H. Golucke Who Has Worked Amongst Them For Years

"It is true that ninety-one per cent. of the taxable property in twenty-one provinces is owned by the Filipinos," stated G. H. Golucke, a Manila embroidery exporter, "but nevertheless the Filipinos are not yet ready for independence. They are not politically or economically prepared to take over the islands and govern them to the satisfaction of the United States and any other foreign power which might do business with them." Mr. Golucke passed through Victoria last night on board the Yokohama Maru. He is en route to New York on a business trip in connection with the importation of hand-made embroidery into the United States. Following his visit to New York he will go to Toronto, which offers a new market for his goods.

Renewed Lumber Movement to Japan May Start Soon

Renewed movement of lumber from this coast to Japan should commence shortly, according to Chosai Yamamoto, a prominent lumber merchant of Tokyo, who arrived this morning on the Orient aboard the Africa Maru en route to Seattle and Vancouver on a buying trip.

Permanent building permits were issued in Tokyo and suburbs the week of his departure from Japan, and the districts in which permanent buildings will be erected total twenty-four all told. The issuance of these permits were met the first day with many applications and it is expected that the lumber market will strengthen again on this continent as a result. Construction material will be needed in the very near future as soon as the supply on hand is diminished. All buildings are governed by the rules set forth in the revised regulations drawn up by the civic authorities. They are very strict as regards fireproof and earthquake resistance.

WATERWAY SYSTEM IN TOKYO WILL BE GREATLY IMPROVED

Plans of City Reconstruction Outlined by Japanese Journalist

Tokyo has always been a city of waterways and will, in the course of its reconstruction, greatly elaborate and improve these important means of city communication, stated C. Oshima, journalist on the Los Angeles News, returning from a tour of Japan aboard the Africa Maru this morning.

"With the proposed harbor construction of Tokyo and the new canal projected between Tokyo and Yokohama, the Tokyo waterway system which has never been found adequate will be improved by the construction of a new canal from the North Bay to the Tokyo Exchange. A second canal will be constructed through the east portion of the city, while another canal will connect Tokyo with Yokohama. In all there will be eight new canals. All these canals, as well as the repaired old canals, will have a water depth sufficient for the floating of vessels from 100 to 150 tons displacement. The entire waterway scheme," Mr. Oshima stated, "will require an expenditure of $15,000,000."

As the reconstruction of Tokyo every modern improvement that is essential to a city of its size has been taken into consideration, the journalist continued. "In the plans for a new Tokyo a segregation of industrial, business and residential sections is planned. A complete park system is also proposed. A subway is to be built, while an elevated railway will relieve traffic congestion in downtown sections."

SS. CITY OF VICTORIA RAMMED ESQUIMALT DOCK

Damage Caused to Masonry While Gates Could Not Be Closed Until Temporary Repairs Were Effected; Vessel Came Here For Hull Repairs

Considerable damage was done to the Esquimalt drydock yesterday when the freighter City of Victoria entered the drydock for repairs.

The freighter was making for the entrance when she fetched over to the west side of the dock, ramming the masonry and shifting several of the large blocks.

When the vessel was eventually floated into the dock it took three hours to close the gates owing to the damage and loosening of the masonry. No definite estimate has yet been made of the damage, but it was reported by the dockmaster that it was extensive. A. F. Mitchell, of the Public Works Department, inspected the damage this afternoon.

The Victoria Machinery Depot was to have repaired the City of Victoria during the Fall of last year and had the vessel in drydock to commence work when permission was given to have her launched again to permit the steamship Siberian Prince to go in for repairs. The City of Victoria was to have made one trip to the Orient and then return for repairs to her hull, which had been damaged in stranding. Another trip, however, was permitted and now she has been drydocked by Coughlan of Vancouver, the owners, who will carry out the repairs themselves.

Twenty-three new plates are required for the vessel and the work will last two weeks. Local men are being used on the work but Vancouver equipment has been brought over. The job is estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000.

FOUR NEW LINERS BEING BUILT FOR JAPANESE LINE

Two Under Construction in Japan; Yokohama Maru Docked Last Night

Two new passenger and freight liners are being built in the Orient for the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, it was learned on the arrival of the Yokohama Maru, Captain S. Akiyoshi, from the Orient last night. These two liners are now under construction for the N.Y.K. two Diesel engine freighters at Glasgow and two reciprocating-engined liners in Japan.

The Yokohama Maru brought a light list of passengers from the Orient. There were eighty-eight altogether, twenty first class and sixty-eight steerage all for Seattle.

Cargo discharged here last night amounted to 153 tons including a large shipment of porcelain. The Seattle cargo amounted to 1,107 tons, including 678 bales of silk and 2,373 mats of rice, in addition to 470 bales of mail. This trip the Yokohama Maru will not call at Vancouver, the port of call being Seattle.

Among the first class passengers was W. E. Hick, representative of the Maxwell, Chrysler, Case and Bethlehem cars in Manila. He is returning to Denver on a short vacation.

Commodore Barnes's new yawl was launched at Hongkong on June 3 and is now being rigged and going through her trials before being shipped to Victoria on one of the Blue Funnel liners. AFRICA MARU WINS RACE WITH MISHIMA

Docked at 5:30 o'clock This Morning; Hawaii Maru Passed up at 8 o'clock

The Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Africa Maru, Capt. T. Mitsunaga, won the trans-Pacific race against the Mishima Maru, which is making a special trip to Seattle for the N.Y.K. line. Leaving Yokohama at the same time the Africa Maru and Mishima Maru staged a friendly race.

The Africa Maru won. When the Africa Maru docked at 5:30 o'clock this morning the Mishima had not reported.

The Africa Maru, however, is by no means a fast boat when compared with the Hawaii Maru, also of the O.S.K. line. The Hawaii Maru left Kobe six hours after the Africa Maru left Yokohama and nearly beat the latter vessel to port.

The Hawaii Maru picked up on the Africa Maru and passed up direct to Seattle this morning at 8 o'clock. She will reach Seattle before the Africa Maru.

The Africa Maru brought the biggest list of Japanese to pass through this port this year. There were 317 on board altogether, 219 steerage and forty-one first class for Seattle and seventeen steerage for Victoria.

Cargo on the Africa Maru was light. Only twenty-six tons were discharged here while for Seattle there were only 1,300 bales of silk and 124 tons of cargo. The Tacoma cargo amount to 800 tons.

FLEET COMMANDER EXPLAINS NEED OF NAVAL PROTECTION

Sir Hubert Brand, of "Silent Service," Talks to Rotarians

"The people in the maritime provinces of the Dominion of Canada realize the importance of sea power and the protection of commerce," said Rear-Admiral Sir Hubert Brand, commanding the light cruiser squadron at present lying in Esquimalt Harbor, to the members of the Rotary Club today. "But unfortunately everyone in Canada does not realize the importance of sufficient naval protection. It is important and entirely up to us to see that the Empire is prepared and ready for any emergency, and that we may hand down to our descendants a fleet which is as strong in every respect."

"The people in the Dominions and Colonies," he continued, "should think of the Empire as a whole, for united we have nothing to fear. In fact, if we 'hang together' we shall be all right. If we do not 'hang together' we shall hang separately," he declared amidst laughter and applause.

"The object of the world-cruise of the British Special Service Squadron is to promote better understanding between the nations which constitute the Empire," asserted the speaker, and he compared the objects of the fleet of which he was a part, to those of the Rotary Club, for these two great organizations, he said, both endeavored to serve the same purpose.

The squadron had received the most enthusiastic of welcomes wherever they had touched, including Africa, the Cape, Zanzibar, Ceylon, Malaya, and the principal ports of Australia and New Zealand, Fiji, Samoa and many other points, and not once did the fleet drop anchor in any British or Dominion waters, until they reached Honolulu, the Admiral asserted. "Underlying the gaiety and merriment with which we have been greeted," he said, "we have felt that in the hearts of the people of the Empire for the Mother of the vast dominions. Their great wish is for the solidarity of the British Empire, as a whole, he continued."

An adequate navy, he pointed out, was only a form of insurance for goods which were shipped over the high seas, and a protection to the Empire's commerce. He pictured the disaster which would confront the Empire, if, in hostilities which might arise, but which he prayed might never be averted, the British fleet were unable to protect Britain's commerce and the ships from the Dominions overseas. Here, he showed, was the need for naval protection, naval supremacy and naval development.

He was profuse with his thanks to the citizens of Victoria and Vancouver Island for the welcome extended to the fleet, the officers and men, and assured the club members that the kindness was greatly appreciated and that it would long be remembered by those who had participated in the happy visit to this city.

The Admiral's address was followed by the singing of "Rule Britannia" by the entire gathering, which stood, facing the flag, at attention.

Sir Hubert was accompanied by Captain Austin, of H.M.S. Danae, Captain Phipps of H.M.S. Delhi, Commander Beard, senior naval officer at Esquimalt, and Major W. H. Langley, provincial chairman of the Navy League of Canada, who spoke on the necessity of supporting the Navy League in this country and giving the boys of Canada an opportunity of serving in the merchant marine club was reminded of the call for motor cars on Monday morning at 9.30 at the Esquimalt dockyards which will carry out the project of the city in order that they may see the sights of interest and beauty with which Victoria abounds.

The annual meeting of Central W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Fair, 1213 Cameron Street, at 8 o'clock Thursday.

Miss June Curtis, of Portland, Ore., is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hetherington.

MEMBERS OF FETTERED ORDER IN COURT

Disagreement of Member With His Officers Leads to Civil Action

The constitution of the Loyal Order of Moose and the views of one of its members in respect to certain of its provisions are points raised in the action of Moulton vs. Copeland et al continuing in Supreme Court this morning from an opening yesterday afternoon. Chief Justice Hunter presides.

The claim is one by William R. Moulton, who declares that he was wrongfully expelled from Victoria Lodge 1380, L.O.M., and seeks reinstatement or $1,000 damages. Plaintiff sets up that he was expelled after suspension and that he was assaulted when trying to secure admittance to the meetings of the lodge.

Defendants, the officers of the local lodge emphatically deny the assault, say further that plaintiff was not expelled and is still a member of the lodge.

Plaintiff, a painter at 717 Discovery Street, sets up that he became a member in July, 1920, and since that time has paid in $55.25 in dues. In January this year he alleges the existence of a "conspiracy to prevent him from expressing his views." Then followed a $20 fine and suspension for three months.

Defendants deny the existence of any conspiracy, and say further that the suspension was lifted and the member reinstated, and declare that the officers were acting in accordance with the constitution and by-laws of the fraternal order.

The hearing proceeds with the taking of evidence.

P. J. Sinnott acts for plaintiff, and W. C. Moresby for defendant. Considerable time is being expended in the trial by the local lodge, which consists of some 375 members in this city.

Obituary

According to an announcement from London, funeral services for the late Mrs. J. A. Sayward, who died in London on June 14, took place on June 14 at Golders Green Cemetery, the remains being cremated.

Her many young friends in the city were shocked to receive word of the sudden death of Winifred, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Warren of 1496 Belmont Avenue. She left three weeks ago to spend a vacation with relatives in Winnipeg and was taken ill suddenly, passing away in spite of every care. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Many attended the funeral yesterday of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Holt. The cortege left the family residence at 1155 Clark, and twenty minutes later services were conducted at the Holy Trinity, Anglican Church, where relatives and a large gathering of sympathizing friends were present. Rev. T. H. Hughes conducted the service. The hymns sung were "Thy Will Be Done" and "Far From Thy Heavenly Home." The Rev. Mr. Holt was held. Messrs. W. H. Beards, J. Sherr and W. B. Deaville acted as pallbearers, and the remains were laid to rest in Patricia Bay Cemetery.

Service for the late Mrs. Mary Buckley was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the chapel of the B.C. Funeral Co. by the Rev. H. L. Archibald. The casket and hearse were covered with many beautiful floral designs. The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: Col. A. G. Vincent, E. G. Morrison, N. Martin, C. B. Craig. The remains were laid to rest in Rose Bay Cemetery.

APPEAL COURT HEARS COMPLAINT OF GARNISHEE CASE

Judgment Reserved in Two Cases Yesterday

Fisher et al vs. Mary Bilfor and others, an interlocutory appeal in connection with garnishee proceedings continued before the Court of Appeal this morning. Miss Winifred McKay resumed argument on the appeal of the appellant, Mrs. Mary Bilfor. E. J. Grant appears for the Crown's Nest Oil Company, respondent to the appeal.

The appeal is from an order of Chief Justice Hunter who refused the payment out of monies and the appointment of a receiver in the main action. Outlining the history of the case Miss McKay stated that judgment in the main action was given in July, 1923, from which the Crown's Nest Oil Company appealed, applying for a stay of proceedings. The monies in question were paid into court on September 15, said counsel.

The Crown's Nest Oil Company was notified that the monies had been assigned. From that developed the present proceedings. Argument proceeds.

At the close of the hearing of Cairns vs. Brown yesterday judgment was reserved. The appeal was reserved. The appeal was in the sum of $1,200 on a mortgage agreement.

Yesterday afternoon the hearing of Rex vs. Jordan concluded with judgment reserved. In this appeal the Crown contested the quashing of a conviction and fine of $50 against A. McKay Jordan, the respondent, who had been convicted of practicing optometry without a registered certificate. Deputy Magistrate Findlay quashed the conviction and adjourned the case to a review of the case in the County Court, ordered it quashed and remitted the fine. From this ruling the Crown appealed, and Judge Mackenzie, M.P., appeared for appellant, and R. L. Maitland for respondent.

The Court of Appeal is hearing the end of a session that began on June 14, with only a few more hearings to be disposed of before rising.

ACCUSED GIVEN TWO-YEAR TERM ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Six Months Additional Added as Penalty For Non-Support of First Wife

One wife too many reacted to the disadvantage of William W. Armstrong in City Police Court this morning when Judge Mackenzie imposed a total of two years and six months imprisonment for bigamy and non-support of his real wife.

The accused was arrested by plain clothes officers at Sidney after the police had watched the case for some weeks. The police evidence was to the effect that Armstrong married a wife and child in this city and subsequently married an eighteen-year-old girl at Prince Rupert. After a second honeymoon the accused, said the police, crossed to Bellingham and was with difficulty persuaded to step once more on Canadian soil.

In passing sentence Magistrate Jay remarked on the serious nature of the offence. The accused would do two years on the charge of bigamy and six months on the charge of failing to maintain his wife in this city.

SPECIAL COUNCIL SITTING TO-MORROW

An endeavor will be made at the meeting of the City Council to-morrow afternoon to clear up the confusion which has arisen in connection with a meeting on Monday, on the eve of the Dominion Day holiday.

Apart from public works matters, the chief business appears to be the amendment of the city charter, which are hold-overs from earlier sessions, as the streets regulation measure, which is being redrafted by the city solicitor, and the market by-law. There is a building by-law amendment and some real estate transactions to be ratified.

Some discussion is likely to ensue with regard to the commencement of work on the Spring Ridge Sand Pits, for which a vote is made in the estimates. Work is also progressing on the preparation of a beach at Elk Lake on the East Saanich Road, using the material from land recently purchased just off the East Road.

DAMAGE ACTION AGAINST BANK DISMISSED

Chief Justice Hunter Rules Ella Mishap Was Inevitable Accident

Proving one of the rare instances in British Columbia courts where a jury in a civil claim for damages fails to reach a verdict, the majority necessary to a verdict, the jury in the Supreme Court action of Ella vs. Bank of Montreal was discharged yesterday afternoon by Chief Justice Hunter. In further argument this morning the learned trial judge gave judgment for defendant.

The action was a claim by Henry Reece Ella, an accountant of this city, for $5,000 damages against the defendant corporation for injuries received to his left eye while watching stone-cutting operations near the new building premises on Douglas Street. The jury consisted of seven men and one woman, Mrs. Yarwood, the lady juror, was the first in this city to be chosen to listen to a trial in any court.

The jury retired with the case in their hands at 11.40 a.m. yesterday. Luncheon recess came and no verdict was possible. At 4 p.m. yesterday the jury finally reported it could not agree, and could not even reach the two-thirds majority necessary to a finding.

W. C. Moresby and R. C. Lowe, for plaintiff, and Harold B. Robertson, K.C. and D. S. Tait for defendants, resumed argument this morning. Mr. Robertson contended that the Bank of Montreal has no share in the stone cutting operations which were being done by the defendant, and that the Vancouver sub-contracting firm of the local contractors.

Mr. Moresby contended that the plaintiff was injured through the negligence of the defendant corporation.

In summing up, Chief Justice Hunter found that the accident was one of those which fall into the category of the inevitable. If plaintiff, as alleged, had put his head over the fence when the stone was being cut, he had been looking for trouble. It was a perfectly natural thing to do and he, the trial judge, might even have done so himself. On the other hand the accident was clearly that which could not have been foreseen, and so inevitable. There would be judgment for the defendant.

The accident happened when a stone fell in the hands of a workman who was endeavoring to dig into the stone across the grain flew out to the fence line and struck plaintiff in the left eye. There was a conflict of evidence as to whether the plaintiff had been over the fence or not, the plaintiff himself denying the assertion.

Admiral Field Deals With Future of Submersible Vessels

Vancouver, June 26 (By Times Representative of H.M.S. Patricia).—The Hood, the Repulse and the Adelaide received the first taste of their welcome to Vancouver shortly after noon yesterday while they were in the Gulf of Georgia, making their way in line formation from Victoria. The C.P.R. Princess Patricia, with every inch of passenger accommodation taken by welcoming and cheering excursionists, was the first to greet the fleet.

The Patricia was followed by a crowded Union Steamship excursion steamer and by a flotilla of private yachts, launches and even fishing boats which came down from the direction of the mouth of the Fraser River.

H.M.C.A. Patricia, under Lieut. Oland, carrying Commander Hogg of Ottawa, director of the Canadian Navy, and Flag Commander Hibbard, also from Ottawa, with a number of guests, went from Victoria and accompanied the big battleships through the outside channel on their trip from here to the mainland yesterday morning.

The Patricia ran alongside of the Hood until they were half way across the Gulf. Then the Canadian destroyer, on the order flashed from Admiral Field on the Hood, put on speed and clipping of over thirty miles an hour dashed ahead of the big ships and shot into Vancouver harbor.

OUT OF THE HAZE

Because of the haze which hung over the water the great fighting craft could not be distinguished clearly until they had come quite close in. But as they came up to the Narrows they were greeted wildly by a solid mass of humanity which had gathered along the shore between the trees from Siwash Rock along the beaches to Brockton Point. It was estimated that there were nearly 40,000 people along the shore, and the waves from the boats rolling ashore precipitated a general scramble among the forward part of the crowd, trying to get them up shore. Motor cars were parked for miles along the roads leading back into the Park.

As the Patricia came around the point into the Narrows the guns from a battery, mistaking her for the big fleet, boomed out a salute.

UNRESTRAINED CHEERING

The Patricia went to berth at a pier in the harbor. Over half an hour later the monster Hood poked her nose around Brockton Point. This was the signal for unrestrained cheering from the thousands who lined all the wharves around the Harbor and more thousands on top of every tall building in lower Vancouver. All the boats in the harbor joined with their whistles in the chorus of greeting.

The Hood very slowly moved across the harbor in the early morning at Ogden Point in Victoria. The result is that the crowds visiting the boats here are being taken out in tenders.

The boats are anchored to moor at any point in the harbor as was done at Ogden Point in Victoria. The result is that the crowds visiting the boats here are being taken out in tenders.

Mayor Hayward of Victoria came to Vancouver as a guest of Admiral Field on the Hood and attended the citizens' bell to the naval officers at the Hotel Vancouver last night.

Replying to Mayor Owen, who proposed a toast to the British Special Service Squadron, Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick L. Field said:

"Gentlemen, I am always expected to make speeches on the Navy. I can assure you that I have never been able to do so. I am not a speaker, and I am most difficult for me to go on making speeches without being technical, or, perhaps, uninteresting to you gentlemen who may be and are not content with the sea as I am, but I don't speak about the Navy, and I am sometimes tempted because of the great educational benefit this cruise has been to me, to speak about other things, I lay myself open to the criticism that I am talking of things I know nothing about."

THE EMPIRE'S WELFARE

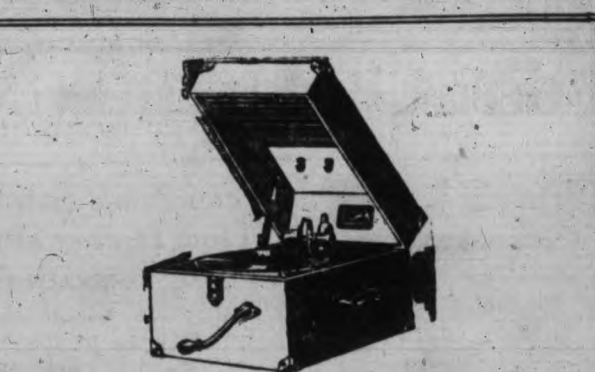

"I must speak of the Navy, and I was not surprised, but very much pleased when the Lieutenant-Governor closed his speech a day or two ago by quoting a part of the preamble of what is known as the Naval Discipline Act. This Act has been in force over the very smallest detail, and it is expedient to maintain the law with regard to the Government of the Navy, which is a matter of Providence of God, the safety, honor and welfare of our Empire chiefly depends. This Naval Discipline Act also goes on to tell us of our duties down to the very smallest detail, and you may well imagine this Act is something in the nature of a second Bible to naval men. As I say, it has been in force for over 100 years, and has been changed in many ways to suit modern conditions, but gentlemen, the preamble has never been altered, and that, I think, is evidence, that even in the difficult times when money is required for innumerable pressing purposes, our Government still thinks and believes that the safety, honor and welfare of the Empire chiefly depends on the Navy."

AMERICA'S AID

"The Mayor has alluded to our cousins and friends across the border. Let us remember that we have made an agreement with them, at their suggestion and with great tact, that we should keep a Navy of a certain size. Now it is just as right that we should keep our Navy up to the standard of this agreement as it is that we should not go beyond it. I feel, however, even part of our own Empire, and have never been so warmly welcomed and enthusiastically welcomed as we have been here. I welcome you to us as we have been exceeded by that which we received at Honolulu. We might easily have

PLACE OF CRUISERS

"I then went on in my speech to talk about aircraft. I merely wish to say that if you had had the privilege of going round this great Empire of ours and seeing the trade routes for yourself, you would agree with me that it is necessary to protect them and guard against any attack. There

CAPITAL SHIPS

"Now I suppose I must give you something more about the Navy. I tried a day or two ago to clear up one or two of the misconceptions which have been reported by those people who preach that ships are no longer any good; the capital ship is dead and dead; that we should not spend any more money in that way. Well, surely that is disproved by the attitude of the great naval powers to-day, who after due consideration have decided that ships are still the backbone of the fleet. I tried to explain and make clear to you how some of these reports and statements were fallacious. I tried to tell you clearly the duty of the main fleet of the enemy, that it comes, the main fleet must contain the main fleet of the enemy, that it would be impossible, especially in its reduced state, to prevent raiding, preying upon our trade and commerce, therefore, we required cruisers to guard this trade and commerce. Statements have been made that the cruiser also is dead, and that cruisers should be submersible. At the best, the fighting ship is only a compromise. You can only have so much tonnage and you have to divide it up into fuel, speed, gunnery and protection, and whatever duty you intend to employ her on you so design her with so much speed, offensive power and protection. Now, gentlemen, if to these factors you add the power to submerge, you cannot do so efficiently. I speak with knowledge of the design department of the British Navy. You would have to add one-third to her total tonnage, therefore, you would have to keep within the tonnage. If power to submerge must be added, then such a cruiser would be inferior to our present light cruiser. That is why you cannot replace a light cruiser with a submarine. A submarine is a very useful weapon if kept to small dimensions, but directly you try to make her of heavy tonnage, she becomes unwieldy, she cannot dive quickly and becomes an easy prey to the submarine proper. It clears up one of those statements made by inexperienced and irresponsible persons, that the cruiser is dead."

"It only remains, Mr. Mayor, for me to thank you and the people of Vancouver for the very great welcome we have received. Coming through the Narrows with the banks lined by masses of cheering people, I don't think we have ever seen anything like it. I thank you for this great welcome, for all you have arranged to do for our entertainment and for your hospitality to-night."

Winnipeg, June 26.—Amounts unpaid on stock subscribed in the Northwestern Trust Company, now in liquidation, can not be collected, it was ruled to-day by Mr. Justice Dyson in a test case which concerns some 240 shareholders with a total unpaid balance of $175,000. Failure of the company to comply with the Sale of Shares Act has sufficient force to an action brought by the liquidator in this connection.

Change of Rules Puts Lady Star Out of Running

Mrs. Hutchings Agreed Not to Play Stymlies; Won Match But Was Disqualified

Officials Support U.S.G.A. Rules and Not W.G.A.; Men Have Fine Games

Vancouver, June 26.—Mrs. Harold Hutchings, B.C. woman's champion, and her opponent of yesterday afternoon, Miss G. Barnett, who holds the ladies' title of Montana, were disqualified by the officials of the P.N.G.A. late yesterday afternoon for a small breach of the rules of the United States Golf Association, under which the P.N.G.A. is held.

Mrs. Hutchings has won seven championships this year, playing under western rules. She and her opponent before starting agreed not to play stymlies. Forgetting the change of rules, Mrs. Hutchings, who does not like playing stymlies, started out in the same way as usual and defeated Miss Barnett 6 up and 5 to play, and when turning in the result reported their agreement to the scorer.

At once there was great discussion as to what the committee would do in the matter, and there was much referring to rule books. Mr. Kerry, president of the association, at once called a special meeting, and they decided they could only abide by the U.S.G.A. ruling.

Owing to the disqualification of Mrs. Hutchings and her opponent, the "eights" of the women's championship contain the names of only seven players. The four from Ingwood Country Club, Seattle, yesterday's matches resulted as follows:

Mrs. H. S. Hutchings, Winnipeg, defeated Miss G. Barnett, Boise, 6 and 5, but was disqualified.

Mrs. Angus McAllister, Shaughnessy Heights, defeated Mrs. D. Twichell, Ingwood, 3 and 1.

Mrs. J. C. Bridgeman, Ingwood, defeated Mrs. C. P. Thomas, Los Angeles, 7 and 5.

Miss P. Halloran, Salt Lake, defeated Mrs. J. E. Riege, Spokane, 5 and 4.

Mrs. P. F. Jackson, Ingwood, defeated Mrs. H. Knox Roberts, Seattle, 2 and 1.

Mrs. H. O. Young, Ingwood, defeated Mrs. Wilkie Fowler, Shaughnessy Heights, 4 and 6.

Mrs. C. C. Cary, Ingwood, defeated Mrs. H. Cunningham, Vancouver, 8 and 7.

Mrs. S. C. Sweeney, Jericho, defeated Mrs. Robert Gellert, Jericho, 3 and 2.

Vancouver, June 26.—Forrest Watson of Tacoma created a sensation yesterday afternoon when, in the P.N.G.A. amateur championship at Shaughnessy Heights, going out in 22, five strokes under par, he defeated A. Bull on the tenth hole and went on to play the final round. Deciding to go on with the game for the sake of making a score, Watson set out to break the amateur course record set by B. Willing in the first eighteen holes of the open championship last Friday.

But it was impossible for him to keep from relaxing after his match was over and he just managed to tie Dr. Willing's score of 68. This young man will be followed with great interest to-day when he meets Stein, in the second round. This will be the feature match in the championship round, and the victor will meet the winner of the Willing-Bull match in the semi-finals on Friday.

YOUNGSTER DOES WELL

C. D. Hunter Jr., a sixteen-year-old boy, gave a fine performance in his match yesterday afternoon when he defeated Dr. Willing's score of 68. This young man will be followed with great interest to-day when he meets Stein, in the second round. This will be the feature match in the championship round, and the victor will meet the winner of the Willing-Bull match in the semi-finals on Friday.

Knox Walkem, one of the driving in the second half of his thirty-six-hole match with Jack Fraser and lost two up and one to play.

The match was a fine one, with still playing the wonderful brand of golf that he has been displaying all through the tournament and after getting a birdie three on the ninth and another at the fourteenth, finished with a 75.

In the first flight P. Trill defeated G. A. Potter after shooting a neat 77. T. A. Havermeyer had a hard tussle with G. P. Donaldson, and only won on the last green.

UPLANDS GOLF

At the Uplands Golf Club on the morning of July 1 a mixed foursome competition will be held over eighteen holes, medal play. Half of the combined handicap will be allowed. Players will choose their own partners and all entries have to be in the hands of the secretary not later than 4 o'clock Sunday.

In the afternoon of the same day a men's sweepstake will be held over eighteen holes, medal play. Post entries will be received for this event.

LANGFORD GETS A JOB

Chicago, June 26.—Sam Langford, blind in one eye and with the sight of the other restored as the result of an operation, came back to Chicago to learn that he had been given a job for life.

Water Polo Teams From Fleet to Play For Championship

On Saturday afternoon starting at 5:30 o'clock at the V.I.A.A. pool, Curtis Point, two water polo teams from the H.M.S. Delhi and the H.M.S. Dragon will clash in the preliminary round to decide the water polo championship of the British Special Service Squadron. On Sunday afternoon at the same time two teams from the Danae and Dauntless will meet, and the winners of these two games will clash in the final game for the championship at the V.I.A.A. gala to be held at their pool on Dominion Day.

This is the first time that an event of this kind has been staged and it should create a great deal of interest here. All the visiting ships have water polo teams and the keen rivalry exists amongst them. The teams are showing a great deal of zeal in the affair, and the matches are expected to be keenly competed.

Prices Are Low at Final Day's Races at Colwood Track

Favorites Lead Most Fields Which Were Small For Most Part

Low prices marked the board during the waning of yesterday afternoon at the Colwood race track, and although the races were well-contested, there was no high money paid. It was the final day of the opening meet at Colwood.

Fourteen and, the favorite, ridden by Bell, got away with the first race by an easy margin, against a strong field. Ellen Terry and Yorkshire Relish came into the money, running away from Royal Irish, Skookum and Sunset.

Brookfield paid $7.30 for straight tickets in the second race. The gelding left the field at the start, and ran well all the way. Veve and Bandago spread out behind Thompson's son, coming into the money with ease.

Carrie Moore, a Sunflower Stable entry, ridden by Petzold in the third race, took first place. Olympian and the Nettle Witter placed and showed respectively.

NO SHOW MONEY

In the fourth race, over the mile only four horses ran, and the result was confusion among the betting public. One of the entries came from the Creech Stables, and included two horses, which made it impossible to place any but one chance to lose. Consequently, and as is the rule, there was no show money.

Reliability started well, closely followed by John Morrill, one of the Creech entries, and the horses were around in splendid time. On the last turn Martin brought the Creech horse alongside Reliability, with Petzold lacing the flanks of his mount to keep the lead. The horses fought for a few moments, and then John Morrill drew slightly ahead and won.

Nick Klein won the fifth event, and paid $11.45, the best money of the day. Charles A. Byrne and Flying Orb finished second and third. Dode Adams led the field until the stretch, when she lagged badly. Frey, who had a leg up on Dode, was suspended, and the race was won by the judges for his ride.

Pearl Boots was a high favorite in the sixth, and came in with comparative ease, closely followed by Bell, Skouriel and Ivy Gray.

Lilac Time was a hot favorite in the seventh, and won nicely, with the money. H. C. Bash paid considerably more than the winner, but the horse was low throughout. Tan II, a birdie two and the seventh, with a par three, leaving him a wonderful chance to tie up the match on the last hole, but Willing did not give him much chance when he put his second shot on to the green for a par four which Hunter was unable to do more than halve.

Knox Walkem, one of the driving in the second half of his thirty-six-hole match with Jack Fraser and lost two up and one to play.

The match was a fine one, with still playing the wonderful brand of golf that he has been displaying all through the tournament and after getting a birdie three on the ninth and another at the fourteenth, finished with a 75.

Husky Oarsmen Who Will Represent Canada in Olympic Fight

When Toronto Varsity's fine rowing machine won the eight-oared event at the Olympic trial at St. Catharines, Ont., two weeks ago, it earned the right to represent Canada in this event at Paris. The crew is in fine shape but will find the competition across the water very keen as it will stack up against the finest oarsmen in the world. Those in the above picture are as follows: From left to right—Bow, N. Taylor; No. 2, Boyd Little; No. 3, Jack Smith; No. 4, Warren Snyder; No. 5, R. H. Hunter; No. 6, Bill Langford; No. 7, A. A. Mascot's Right Put Ellis Away in Fourth Round

After Leading All the Way English Battler Falls Into Trap and Goes Out

Woodley's Terrific Right Drops Mills; Morgan Easy Meat For O'Connor

Driving in a stiff right to the unprotected jaw of Frankie Ellis of London, Billy Mascot of Portland, Ore., landed the most powerful blow of the championship of the Pacific Coast, scored a clean knockout in the fourth round of the main event of the boxing bouts at the Armories last night.

Mascot had been biding his time for an opening all through the fight. He let Ellis do most of the forcing and landing, and just when the fans had got to a point where they believed the Englishman would be able to withstand the lack of weight and win on points, Mascot drew him into a hole and put him to sleep.

Mascot drew his left for the stomach and when Ellis dropped his hands, leaving his jaw open, he connected with a slashing right which dropped the Englishman to the canvas for the count of ten and then some.

Although only a pound's difference was given in their weight, Mascot appeared heavier than the finely drawn Ellis. Ellis won the first and second rounds on his aggressiveness and landed the most powerful blow of power in his punches, and Woodley went to the canvas twice and Mills had been down once.

In the third round Woodley forced the fight, and in a close exchange he brought over his right and Mills heard the birds singing.

Woodley appears to have the ability to make a good fighter, but his defence is bad and he is easy to hit. He is willing to take punishment with the hope of getting in one of his powerful rights, one of which is enough to drop his man. A better defence would assure him a long climb upwards in the light-heavyweights.

WOODLEY DROPS HIS MAN

The next bout of interest to the large crowd of spectators was that between Ernie Woodley of Victoria and Jack Mills of Vancouver. It ended in a knockout in the third round, when the local lad planted a terrific right hook on the point of Mills' chin and he dropped like a log.

The men were light-heavyweights. It was anybody's fight in the first two rounds. Both were packed plenty of power in their punches, and Woodley went to the canvas twice and Mills had been down once.

In the third round Woodley forced the fight, and in a close exchange he brought over his right and Mills heard the birds singing.

Woodley appears to have the ability to make a good fighter, but his defence is bad and he is easy to hit. He is willing to take punishment with the hope of getting in one of his powerful rights, one of which is enough to drop his man. A better defence would assure him a long climb upwards in the light-heavyweights.

SAILORS FIGHT

Four sailors appeared on the programme in the preliminaries. One of them resulted in a knockout and the other went to a decision. Two rounds were enough for Seaman Hopper of R.M.S. Delhi, who showed plenty of gameness in rising three times in the second round before he was finally put down for the full count by Seaman Harvey of H.M.S. Danae.

In the lightweight bout between Seaman Floy of H.M.S. Delhi and Seaman Kite of H.M.S. Dauntless, the former gained the decision after four rounds.

MORGAN TOO SLOW

Johnny Morgan, pride of Lady Smith, was no match for Mike O'Connor of Vancouver in the eight-round semi-final. O'Connor showed a disposition to fight, but Morgan covered up too much to allow any steady action. After the fourth round O'Connor began to punish Morgan, but could not get home a telling blow.

In the sixth round Morgan was still on his feet, and Referee Alex. Davies lifted O'Connor's hand in token of victory.

The two Davies boys, Albie and Jumbo, had a good four-round bout for the dustweight title. There was plenty of action and at the end Jumbo was awarded the verdict.

The bouts were the best that had been staged here for a long time.

Cyril Tolley Leading Field in British Open

Hoy Lake, Eng., June 26.—The British open golf championship was at stake to-day with the beginning of seventy-two holes of stroke competition over the links of the Royal Liverpool Club here. More than four-score players, including Britain's best and five of the leading professionals of the United States took off, having earned the right by their low scores in the qualifying rounds on Monday and Tuesday.

Thirty-six holes are being played to-day and another two rounds tomorrow, the lowest score taking the coveted prize. The United States is represented by Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, American professional champion; Jim Barnes, Macdonald Smith and Gil Nicholls.

With about half the field in from the first round Tolley, the crack amateur, was leading with his seventy-three.

Gene Sarazen failed to keep pace with the other stars in the first round, taking eighty-three.

Other scores for the first eighteen holes were: Len Holland seventy-four, Mark Seymour seventy-four, J. K. Taylor seventy-five.

June 26.—Results in the second round were as follows: George Duncan 79, total 153. Gil Nicholls 75-78, total 153.

Norman Brookes Eliminates American Star at Wimbledon

Wimbledon, June 26.—Francis T. Hunter, of the United States Olympic Lawn Tennis team, was eliminated from the men's singles in the Wimbledon tournament to-day by Norman E. Brookes, the Australian star, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Vincent Richards defeated Takeo Harada, Japan, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

To the forty-six-year-old Australian, who was winning Wimbledon honors when most of the present-day competitors were infants, goes the distinction of putting one of the American Olympic stars out of the 1924 British classic.

Fifteen thousand sweltering tennis enthusiasts were sitting on the edges of their seats during the final stage of the Hunter-Brookes match. Even King George, with his gray derby in his hand, leaned forward in his chair just a little. Queen Mary watched the strokes intently from behind a pair of huge sun goggles.

His feet, and Referee Alex. Davies lifted O'Connor's hand in token of victory.

The two Davies boys, Albie and Jumbo, had a good four-round bout for the dustweight title. There was plenty of action and at the end Jumbo was awarded the verdict.

The bouts were the best that had been staged here for a long time.

Tillicums and C.P.R. to Clash at Park To-night

Newcomers Confident of Handing League Leaders
Their First Defeat

Two old rivals will meet at the Royal Athletic Park to-night when the C.P.R. and Tillicums clash in an amateur ball fixture. The game will be called at 6:30 o'clock.

To-night's game is expected to create a great deal of interest among the fans as both times these teams have met previously the railroaders have just managed to scrape through with a win. The last time they met, the Tillicums held the league leaders to a 3-all score until the ninth inning when the railway boys went on a batting spree and drove in six runs.

This evening the Tillicums are confident they will be able to keep the railroaders on the short end of the score and hand them their first defeat of the season.

OPPOSING TWILERS

Manager Williams stated to the Times this morning that either Lefty Saunders or Matty Malcom will be on the mound for the champions. The former has been going fine this season, and he should give the opposing batters plenty of trouble. Malcom has not been worked so far this year.

Jack Curtis, the old reliable, will be doing the heavy work for the Tillicums. Jack has been pitching a great brand of ball this year, but he has run into an awful streak of tough luck. "Heinie," his diminutive brother, will be on the receiving end of the battery.

It is expected that the fans will be out in full strength to give the veteran, Frank Moore a send off. Frank will be appearing in a Tillicum's uniform for the first time of the season. Frank is a great old ball player and many a ball game has been broken up by his heavy willow.

The teams will be picked from the following players:

C.P.R.—Jackson, F. Campbell, Harry Copas, Art Minnis, Roy Copas, Richdale, Whyte, Moore and C. Campbell.

Tillicums—E. Smith, A. Neve, Essler, Salloway, Rutledge, Rosecamp, Frank Moore and Belcher.

British Fighter Has Chance to Win A Title To-night

New York, June 26.—Ted Moore, British middleweight, may be a world's champion to-night after he meets Harry Greb, present champion, in the fifteen-round feature bout of the Milk Fund show at the Yankee Stadium.

Another bout creating some excitement, but with no title at stake, is that between Gene Tunney, United States light-heavyweight champion, and Ermino Spalla, heavyweight champion of Europe, in twelve rounds.

C.P.R. Bowlers to Have Match With Beacon Hill Team

The members of the C.P.R. Bowling Club are looking forward with great expectations to Saturday afternoon, when three rink of players will engage a match with three rinks from Beacon Hill Club. This is the first of interclub games to be played on the C.P.R. grounds, and the players are keyed up to give the more seasoned players from Beacon Hill an enjoyable game. Great attention has been given the green, which is situated at the corner of Belleville and Menzies Streets, and it is expected that a large turnout of club members will be present.

U.S. Rifle Team Wins in France

Keen Competition Featured Naval Sports Yesterday

Number of Fine Events Staged at Willows; Police Won Tug-of-War

Keen competition featured the Naval Field Day sports held at the Willows track yesterday afternoon, when over 600 bluejackets and marines from the Special Service Squadron took part in the fine programme of sports arranged by the entertainment committee. Twenty-eight events were run off during the afternoon, and many close finishes were witnessed by the crowd of spectators.

The best race of the day was the 440-yards open, in which Rogers of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, beat Lineham of the Delhi, after one of the closest races seen on a local track for some time. The sailor led the way until the last thirty yards, when Rogers put on a terrific spurt that carried him across the tape a few feet in front of the tar. Clarke, of the Elks, won the other sprints, the hundred and twenty.

VICTORIA BOBBIES WIN

In the tug-of-war the Victoria police force team proved to be the best of the bunch. The team from the H.M.S. Dauntless was second.

A number of events, always included in naval sports, were staged, and consisted of a tug-of-war, a sailing, a bucket race, a centipede race and a sack race.

At the conclusion of the sports His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Walter C. Nichol presented the prizes to the various winners.

The complete results were as follows:

How to make better strawberry jam in a few minutes

Keeps perfectly—Make up a supply now to use during winter months.

By ANN PROCTOR

Everyone loves strawberry jam, or a spread on bread or hot biscuits offering seems to equal it. Its wonderful flavor makes children of us all. Until now, however, an expert was required to make it. Until now, it was expensive. Certo, a natural product of fruit, has solved the problem so that everyone can now make and eat this delicious conserve.

This process banishes all the guesswork or worry, as perfect results are certain. Unlike the old method of "pound for pound" mixture which had to be boiled for thirty or more minutes, with consequent loss of fruit juice and flavor being boiled away, the economical Certo process requires only one minute's boiling and thereby saves all the fruit to produce 50 per cent. more jam.

Certo is an absolutely pure fruit product—contains no gelatin or preservative. Jams and jellies made by Certo will keep perfectly. Certo will positively save you time and fruit and eliminate all guesswork. You can use it on all kinds of fruits and you can even use canned fruits—something you could never do before. It is highly endorsed by all domestic science experts. Every woman who has used it recommends it to her friends and says she will never be without it. To make Strawberry Jam by the easy Certo process, about two quarts ripe berries in separate portions so that each berry is mashed. This allows fruit to quickly absorb the sugar during the short boil. Measure 4 level cups crushed berries into large kettle, add 7 level cups sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. BOIL HARD FOR ONE MINUTE. Remove from fire and stir in 1/4 bottle (scant 1/2 cup) Certo. From time jam is taken off fire allow to stand not over 5 minutes. BY THE CLOCK. Skim and stir occasionally to cool slightly. Then pour quickly. This same recipe may be used for making raspberry, blackberry or loganberry jam.

Write today to the Douglas Packing Co., Limited, Cobourg, for a copy of the Certo recipe booklet of 73 recipes. If your grocer does not have Certo send 40c in stamps to this Company and they will forward you a bottle. Be sure to start now—the new, sure, quick, economical way of making jams and jellies. You will never return to the old "hit or miss" method. 100

SEA CADETS MAKE SPLENDID SHOWING

Samuel Harris Compliments
Boys on Training Results

Samuel Harris, president of the Dominion Council of the Navy League of Canada yesterday reviewed the Sea Cadets of Victoria at headquarters in the Old Drill Hall. Mr. Harris expressed himself being well satisfied with the boys' appearance and training.

He was particularly struck with the band of twenty-five boys, under Bandmaster Rumsby, the only one of its kind in Canada, connected with the Sea Cadets. The manner in which the whole body responded to orders, and went through drills and exercises, was deserving of praise and commendation, said Mr. Harris.

LOST ARCHIPELAGO OF THE PACIFIC

Chancellor of New Zealand
University Has Interesting
Theory

Believes Easter Island Holds
Key to Riddle of the Pacific

A challenge to the established theories with regard to the settlement of the myriad islands of the Pacific ocean, and especially of the circumstances under which the famous archaeological remains on Easter Island were reared, is to be sounded in a volume to be issued from the publishers in August. Its author is Dr. Macmillan Brown, Chancellor of the University of New Zealand, who arrived in the city yesterday from Seattle.

Dr. Brown's standing as a leading archaeologist and ethnologist has gained him many supporters, and he recognizes the new theories he will advance will arouse the interest of science throughout the world. The book will be called "The Riddle of the Pacific." Based on twenty years' study of the subject among all the chief archipelagos of the Pacific, and on the Asiatic seaboard, Dr. Brown has reached the opinion that the theories advanced with regard to the movement of the Pacific islands and on Easter Island, that they are of Neolithic age, are erroneous.

WAS NEOPOLIS?

He will argue in his work, after five months' residence on Easter Island, that Easter Island was the Neopolis of a large and populous archipelago in the western Pacific which has now disappeared in the subsidence which have taken place in historic times. The islands reported by Davis, who discovered the island of Hapanu (Easter Island) in 1888, and early navigators, are not, in his judgment the myths which more recent explorers have indicated. But in the seventeenth and earlier centuries there existed a large and populous archipelago in that latitude where now rolls the boundless ocean. He places the subsidence of the ocean floor between 1686 and the visit of Admiral Roggeveen to Easter Island in 1722. Unfortunately there are no records to show this except that the inhabitants of the island, about 300 in number, are of different ancestry to the neighboring Polynesian islands, and have different legends and customs. He believes they are the descendants of the slaves shipped to the island to work in the quarries of the neopolis in earlier centuries. He estimates the population to have been at one time at least 10,000, whereas a navigator in the last two centuries has estimated the population at about 2,000.

CAUSED CANNIBALISM

He believes that the cannibalism which spread through the Polynesian islands and which still survives in the Solomon and certain other groups was the result of the subsidence of the ocean sometime at the end of the seventeenth century, which engulfed large areas of fertile land, obliterating vast islands which once had populous settlements.

ments, and that the survivors had resorted to human food when their other sources of supply ceased. The book will advance the theory that the neopolis of Easter Island was the centre of one of these fertile archipelagos, in which a large measure of civilization had been attained, and where, as complete an autocracy had been established by one of the kingly races as was afterwards in existence in the Hawaiian Islands in recent times. Their illustrious dead were taken to Easter Island for burial under the shadow of the volcanic craters, and these platforms and statues which have attracted the conjecture of scientific men for 200 years, Dr. Brown believes were erected by this race. This lost "Atlantis" of the south Pacific appeared to have developed, he thinks, quite an advanced stage of civilization, the highest among the Polynesian races. He conjectures the regime of the dynasty to have extended over about 500 years, and that the figures are seventy feet high and weigh four tons, some of the figures are seventy feet high and weigh four tons, some of the figures are seventy feet high and weigh four tons, some of the figures are seventy feet high and weigh four tons.

The book will develop the theory of this lost Polynesian civilization and its relation to the gradual spread of the races over the Pacific islands since they left the Asiatic continent in remote ages, at a time probably when others pushed across the North Pacific to form the ancestors of the Salish tribes of this coast. Dr. Brown has come here to discuss his theory and will proceed to Alaska shortly.

SAILORS GREETED AT GARDEN FETE

Royal Society of St. George
Prove Excellent Hosts at Bishop's Close

Fifty bluejackets from the light cruisers of the Special Service Squadron stationed at Esquimalt were guests of the Victoria branch of the Royal Society of St. George yesterday at a garden fete and entertainment staged at the Bishop's Close. The sailors took an active interest in the programme, and were cheered to the echo for exhibitions of the hornpipe and other numbers. Little Miss Lillian Langley presented a bouquet to Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, wife of His Honor the Lieut.-Governor, who in a few well chosen words declared open the fete. Rev. H. T. Archibald, on behalf of Dean Quinlan, absent in England, acted for the president. The Boys' City Orchestra supplied an excellent programme of music in the afternoon, and the Moose band at night. Mrs. Leach, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary took charge of the fete aided by a committee whose efforts were crowned with success.

Mrs. Studnick directed graceful flower dances by fifteen girls in costumes, the whole presenting a charming scene. Miss Clara Powell and pupils added an excellent number to the programme followed by some very pretty dances. Mrs. Cresswell and Mrs. Davis acted as accompanists. Stalls did a thriving business around the enclosure. Mesdames Thompson, Lovick and McLennan were in charge of home cooking; Mesdames Mandell and Hartley, ice-cream and candy; Mesdames Finlay-

TEN-YEAR-OLD BOY BADLY WOUNDED BY MINIATURE RIFLE

Rifle Discharged When Lad
Was Climbing Fence

Special to The Times

Pender Island, June 25.—A tragic accident occurred on the evening of June 19 when little ten-year-old Kenneth Gibson shot himself through the abdomen with a .22 rifle. His mother, Mrs. John Gibson, had left the house but a few minutes before to attend to the Parent-Teacher meeting, and had warned the boy not to touch the gun.

It is not known just how the accident occurred, but it is thought that in climbing a fence the gun was discharged. His sister, Phyllis, did all she could for the injured lad, and with the assistance of neighbors carried him to the home of J. A. Brackett, where telephone communication was established between here and Victoria.

Mrs. Gibson was immediately summoned, and Dr. Aldridge, of South Pender, rushed the injured boy to Sidney by launch. Immediately upon his arrival in hospital at Victoria at 3 a.m., the little victim was operated on, and the bullet extracted from the back of the back.

Mrs. Gibson accompanied her son to Victoria, and Mr. Gibson was summoned from Powell River, where he has been employed for some time. Wilfred Gibson of Victoria is an uncle of the injured boy, and it was he who conveyed the victim from Sidney to Victoria.

Inquiries at the Jubilee Hospital this morning elicited the information that the little sufferer was better and making satisfactory progress towards recovery.

FORECAST BRIGHT FUTURE FOR CITY

Railway Officials See Great Tourist Trade Ahead For Victoria

John M. Scott, Assistant Passenger and Traffic Manager of the Southern Pacific lines, from Portland, Oregon, and J. M. Taylor, General Agent of the Southern Pacific lines from Seattle, were yesterday the guests of Commissioner George I. Warren, who drove them by motor to various parts of the city and its environs.

Both of these men speak highly of Vancouver Island, and particularly Victoria's reputation as a tourist resort. There is an ever increasing tide of traffic surging northwards from California and westward from various of the Eastern States or provinces. This is the heaviest season of tourist travel so far recorded, these officials state, and indicates an even greater future for Victoria and the Northwest than the most optimistic anticipated.

FLOWER SHOW IS GREAT SUCCESS

Oak Bay Rose Growers Expect to Enlarge Scope of Association

The ceremony which opened the rose show given by the Oak Bay Rose Growers' Association in a special pavilion in the Oak Bay Hotel grounds, was begun promptly at 2.30 o'clock yesterday. Judge Lammiman, president, introducing Mrs. W. C. Nichol, wife of the Lieutenancy-Governor, who formally opened the show. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien of the Oaklands Nursery, and Mr. Layritz of the Layritz Nurseries, had the two most gorgeous exhibits of blooms, although Mr. Partington had arranged a wonderfully fine display of single blooms as representing the rose culture in the Parliament Buildings gardens, where Mr. Partington is gardener.

A colorful and fragrant exhibit was to be seen from Government House, and in some respects this was possibly one of the most beautiful exhibits in the show.

All arrangements were under the direction of the honorary secretary, David Reid. Judging by J. Fyfe Smith of Vancouver, well-known amateur rose grower, was satisfactory to all, and the judge was commended for his taste and patience in working through the many big entries.

Such was the success of the show that the association plans next year to hold a similar exhibit in the downtown section of the city, possibly in the Alexandra Club Hall, where they were held some years ago. The association also intends to extend its scope and to embrace the entire city. In that way it could be strong enough to compete with other cities of the coast in rose shows and competitions.
